Aim to make forces more capable, efficient, self-reliant

India's integrated defence command in final stage

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

INDIA is in an advanced stage of integrating the three defence services in forming unified theatre commands to enhance the capabilities of the forces while ensuring greater synergy among them in various combat zones. This is with an aim to make the armed forces more capable, efficient and self-reliant.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh said, "We are moving in the direction of taking the initiatives of integration of armed forces to their logical conclusion. Integration will be ensured at theatre commands and down at all levels, from procurement, logistic support, capability building to training and indigenisation so that the armed forces become more efficient and self-reliant."

Chief of Defence Staff (CDS) General Bipin Rawat said the identification of regions of military concerns and designation of theatre commands will be based on tasks, threats, opportunities and assets with the three services. "We are moving towards a maritime theatre command, joint air defence structure and land-centric integrated theatre command for our land borders," he said in his address at the inaugural session of the three-day conclave to commemorate the 1971 India-Pakistan war.

He said they have studied theatre command modules in various countries, including the USA, UK, Russia and China to adopt some of the best practices to meet India's requirements.

Gen Rawat said the framework of a joint and integrated command and control would be structured in a manner that provides operational flexibility to pursue strategic objectives. P10

'An ambitious China can't be ignored'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TAKING note of China's operational doctrine of pursuing the status of world power and aggressively progressing on space, military and cyber fronts, Defence Secretary Ajay Kumar on Friday said that India cannot ignore her neighbour's growing ambitions.

Speaking on "Preparations for War" at the inaugural ceremony of a three-day conclave to commemorate 50 years of India's victory in the 1971 Indo-Pak war, Kumar said that as the country celebrates the golden jubilee, it cannot lose sight of the security scenario it faces today. India can't ignore that China no longer wants to remain a regional power, but is aiming for complete military modernisation by 2035 and achieving a world-class military by 2045, he added. P10

After civilian killings, 5K more troops land in J&K

SANA SHAKIL @ New Delhi

IN view of the targeted killings of civilians by militants, the Centre has decided deploy around 5,000 additional troops in Kashmir to strengthen anti-terror operations and boost law and order measures.

The order, issued on Friday, comes a day before Home Minister Amit Shah's maiden visit to Jammu and Kashmir since the abrogation of its special status and bifurcation into two Union territories. Fifty companies of the Central Armed Police Forces comprising CRPF and BSF would be deployed in the Valley, according to an official order accessed by this paper.

Twenty-five companies of the BSF would be deployed for 'static guard duties', while an equal number of CRPF troops would be pressed into aggressive anti-terror operations. Static guard duties include gate keeping of vital institutions and government buildings. The last time the BSF was roped in for internal security duties in the Valley was in February 2019, ahead of the scrapping of Article 370. P9

States' power to block CBI not absolute: Centre to SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Friday told the Supreme Court that the right of state governments to withdraw consent for CBI probe is not absolute as per Section 6 of the Delhi Special Police Establishment Act.

The West Bengal government had challenged the ongoing CBI probe into post-poll violence, saying it had not sought its consent. Since the Mamata government has already withdrawn its general consent to the CBI, the FIRs lodged by it cannot be proceeded with, it argued.

It was the Calcutta High Court that had tasked the CBI to probe the cases. The Centre said, "The statutory power conferred upon the State under Section 6 of Delhi Special Police Establishment Act is always coupled with a responsibility to exercise that power on a case-to-case basis." P10

Farmer suicides dip in Karnataka

After many years, the number of farmer suicides has come down. Between April 2020 and September 2021, 746 suicides were recorded, as against 1,076 in 2019-20. This is because of good rain and better yields, experts said, while agriculture department officials attributed it also to the seizure of over 10 lakh tonnes of sub-standard seeds. Agriculture Minister BC Patil claimed farm laws helped ryots find better markets. P4

Take a tour to see real B'luru: Citizens to CM

Social media is flooded with photos, videos and messages of poor civic infrastructure plaguing the city

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

AGITATED and fed up with the pathetic condition of city roads, garbage menace and unlit roads, Bengalureans took to social media to draw the attention of the government and administration. Now, they have invited and even challenged Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to take a tour of the city with them and see the real picture of Bengaluru.

Citizens have taken to various social media platforms lambasting the government and municipal administration for the bad condition of roads. These messages were trending all Friday, where people shared photographs, videos and messages on Twitter and Koo highlighting the road conditions.

Bengalureans have challenged CM Bommai to see the real picture of Bengaluru

A group of Bengalureans with the Twitter handle Bangalore Repair Project (@BangaloreRepair) tweeted: "Dr Mr B. Bommai, we challenge you to come with us on a tour of Bangalore (not CBD) and realise what the citizens are going through- from pothole-ridden roads to no street- lights, from dusty air to garbage-laden roads. Your day, your time, your vehicle. Just our Pitstops and Destinations(sic)."

Harsh Golyan, strategy consultant, who threw the challenge to the CM said it all started with roads along the Ring Road and Kempegowda International Airport with no street lights. "Later, I found that the situation is the same in most parts of the City and commuting is bad when it's on potholed roads. One does not know what's next. That is not all, the black spots never stop, garbage is still a major problem and it isn't just a one-day matter. It's an everyday issue."

While some citizens started to list out the roads which need immediate attention, others launched a contest by posting photographs of potholed roads asking people to identify the stretch and get rewards.

Many also took to Koo to draw attention towards the poorly maintained roads in Indiranagar. They pointed out that a portion of Indiranagar's 100 -feet road, which was supposed to have a white topping has still not been done even after a year. Also, the other side of the road which was tarred has been dotted with potholes. One citizen on Koo commented: "Bad road, no vote. Even gave taxes. #100feetdowm (sic)," and "Posh Indiranagar 100 ft road is nothing more than a war zone(sic)."

SCHOOL REOPENING

Private schools ready to welcome younger students from Monday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

PRIVATE schools are gearing up to bring back younger students to offline classes from October 25. For the initial days, school administrators are bringing in a team of counsellors to help students readjust with the school environment and prepare a schedule so that classes can be held in rotation.

The administrators said that they are comfortable with the Covid-19 protocols considering that the older students are already on campus.

Rakesh Singh, Academic Implementation Head of Orchids-- The International School, said, "Since we have already started offline classes in some of our branches for higher classes, we already have hands-on experience in following the protocols suggested by the Karnataka State authorities on school reopening. The school has kept ready a team of counsellors in each of their branches; primary students and staff members have been away from school for the last one-and-a--half years and we understand that initially, they may have some adaptability issues with the new routine. Anticipating the same, we have kept a team of counsellors on standby in every branch to help anyone who requires emotional or psychological attention."

Meanwhile, Shweta Sastri, Managing Director, Canadian International School, said that younger kids need to be back in school as they have been socially isolated since March 2020. She pointed out that the psychological impact of the situation has already manifested in many children. "We are just delighted that these kids will finally be able to physically attend school," she added.

Concurring Sastri, Aloysius D'Mello, Principal, Greenwood High International School said that class days held in rotation may help to pragmatically balance online and offline learning processes while reducing infection risks. "We look forward to hosting them in our campus, dressed up in their uniforms and finally, interacting with their friends face-to-face," she adds. Meanwhile, budget schools under the State Board are struggling with the hybrid model and only a segment of schools, who are part of the Associated Managements of Primary and Secondary Schools in Karnataka (KAMS), have been able to access the curated online platform and manage to continue academically. A teacher of a CBSE school opined that the lack of transportation facilities is playing a "spoilsport" for younger students and parents are hesitant to send them back to schools as the Covid-19 vaccine has not been administered to children.

BDA PROPOSAL

Pvt players show interest in PRR

S. LALITHA@ Bengaluru

The Bangalore Development Authority has recently submitted a proposal to the State Government to implement the Rs 21,091 crore Peripheral Ring Road (PRR) project a Private Public Partnership (PPP) model. The project, which is aimed at decongesting the city, was conceived 16 years ago.

Last year, the 65.5 km project was upgraded to 73 km with eight lanes and four service lanes. It is supposed to come up on 1,810 acres of land in three taluks of Bengaluru-- North, Bengaluru East and Anekal. It will start from Tumkur Road at NICE Road Junction and end at Hosur Road on NH-44.

A senior BDA official told TNIE that the Authority had recommended giving the project on a 50-year lease to the bidder so that it helps them recover the investment costs. The BDA had recommended it to be implemented as a Design-Build-Finance-Operate-Transfer Project by the bidder, he said.

"The Request for Proposal bid and the Concessionnaire Agreement has been submitted to the government," he added.

Confirming the receipt of the proposal, a top government official said, "It has now been sent to the Law Department, the Finance Department and the CM, who is in charge of the city, for their consent. The Cabinet will announce its decision in its next meeting."

Another BDA official said, "The biggest stumbling block the project faced was the land acquisition cost which accounted for the lion's share of the cost. Due to the revised compensation for land acquisition for projects in place in Karnataka, this cost presently comes to nearly Rs 15,475 crore," he explained. "Toll collection, advertisement revenue and rent from constructed facilities near the toll plaza could be the revenue sources for the bidder," the official added.

The interest shown by two groups, APCI Freeway Pvt Limited (a consortium of Israel's SYMBA-MAZ, Afcons and Vishwa Samudram) and IOTC Group, have also been elaborated.

The JAICA, which funds massive infrastructure projects across India, was earlier ready to fund construction cost but not for land acquisition.

Aizawl Mayor Lalrinenga Sailo

A Mizoram House or Bhawan will be constructed in Bengaluru. This was decided in a meeting held between Lalrinenga Sailo, Mayor of Aizawl Municipal Corporation, and Gaurav Gupta, Chief Commissioner, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) on Friday.

The duo discussed issues on municipal elections, population dynamics, garbage management, and the health sector and how it can be improved in Aizawl and Bengaluru. After the meeting, Gupta told the media that Mizoram House will soon be set up in Bengaluru. He said that the City has over 2,000 students and more than 20,000 working professionals from Mizoram. "The site for setting up the Bhavan is being finalised," said Gupta.

Building issue

On the issue of vulnerable and dilapidated buildings, Gupta said, so far 300 structures have been identified and notices have been issued. Although many claim that their buildings are in good condition, work has started to take stock of the buildings and demolish those if they cannot be repaired.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

23rd October: It's Saturday again, one of my favourite days. It's named after the planet Saturn, as if you didn't guess. Back in the ancient world, they thought that this was the most distant planet and, if you could travel beyond it, you'd find nothing - except paradise. Sometimes I think we've lost a lot by forgetting that old, magical universe, full of promise and surprises!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Jupiter is waiting in the wings - so don't become demoralised if delays have affected family arrangements or domestic improvements. It is not yet time for such matters to proceed. But, when is the right time? You'll know well enough, that's for sure!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Today's one of those days when you'd do best to re-orientate yourself and change your attitudes. The events of the last twenty-four hours may have caused you to think again. You'll be surprised, though, how quickly today's problems disappear, like a mirage in the desert.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Travel plans may still be interrupted or delayed by various irritating planetary alignments. Misunderstandings, rather than mechanical failures, are likely to be the root cause of any difficulties. That's why all you have to do is check important arrangements - and then double-check.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Just as long as you have answered those awkward outstanding questions, then your security is assured, so you may put financial cares behind you. Rather, realise that in all areas of your life it is genuinely equal, free and open partnerships which hold the key to future success and happiness.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Sometimes you relish a battle, but you have suffered enough in the past not to want to put yourself through the mill again. You may therefore decide to draw a veil over recent contentious issues and set out on a fresh and optimistic path. And don't let anyone tell you otherwise!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
On the whole you can congratulate yourself on a successful week. The Moon plays a powerful role, which should bring a feeling of emotional warmth and security to complement your many worldly achievements. Why not appreciate such fortunate stars?

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Many of you may have felt a sense of euphoria after recent emotional encounters. Others may have been knocked off balance, but you will surely benefit from the creative events which are due to follow. You can loosen up, get back to basics and fulfil a childhood dream.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The weekend may not be the best time to deal with professional complications, unless you're a workaholic. It's probably far better to turn your hand to those family and home opportunities which have arisen over the last two or three days and enjoy a new leisure attraction.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You'll probably experience a shift of mood around midday as the Moon switches positions and adjusts its emotional power over your psyche. This may prompt a change in your plans, but do keep other people informed, otherwise you can't blame them if they don't give you whole-hearted backing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Get financial business out of the way this morning. The Moon now urges you to put such mundane business aside and think about what you really want to do. You can ponder your long-term future, and consult younger relations as to what they think should happen next.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
There's still some confusion over major plans. Although you may still not be able to travel as you would wish, or you might have to postpone an important agreement, it will be worth your while to continue along your current course, just as long as you ask the right questions.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
One of your great struggles in life is to learn to be more practical and less disorganised. Now that the Moon is changing its position, you may decide to try your hand at a little essential do-it-yourself, home improvements, or perhaps lay the foundations for a major new project.

Rheumatism patients at high risk of catching Covid

Mortality also higher; require booster doses on priority, say health experts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

PATIENTS with rheumatoid arthritis (RA) require booster doses on priority, say health professionals. These patients are at higher risk of contracting Covid-19 and any resultant mortality, as this autoimmune disease compromises the immune system in varying degrees of severity, and vaccine response is also poor, they say. The immune system attacks healthy cells in the body by mistake, causing inflammation in the affected parts of the body. In severe cases, it attacks the internal organs.

Dr B G Dharmanand, Consultant Rheumatologist, Vikram Hospitals (a unit of Manipal Hospitals) stated that many RA patients may not mount adequate immune response to vaccination, however, a booster dose could be one of the ways to increase protection along with short-term (one week) stoppage of some of the immunosuppressive medications. "The benefits are weighed against a small risk of arthritis worsening. The best precaution would be to maintain Covid-19 appropriate behaviour," he said.

A study conducted by the Karnataka Rheumatology Association during the first Covid-19 wave on approximately 9,000 patients with rheumatic diseases in various district hospitals, has shown that the risk of mortality is approximately four times compared to the general population. The study is yet to be published.

A marshal stops a man without a mask at KSR railway station on Friday| VINOD KUMAR T

Dr Abhishek Patil, Consultant - Rheumatology, Manipal Hospitals, Old Airport Road, who was part of the study said, "We used a number of medications like immunosuppressives on these patients. The immune system is essential to fight off infection, but in RA patients, the immune system is compromised. Our study has shown that RA patients infected with Covid-19 are at a higher risk of mortality. Even vaccine response is poorer in these patients. Vaccines stimulate the immune system and produces antibodies, and protect against infection. But when immunosuppressant doses are consumed, the vaccine response may be impaired and a booster dose is required for patients on priority basis, when it's rolled out."

"All patients are sero-positive after vaccination, but antibody titers are found to be significantly lower in about 10-15 per cent in these patients. All immunocompromised patients probably require a booster dose. Despite being vaccinated, precautions like maintaining distance and wearing a mask are required," said Dr Singhai Shweta, Consultant -Rheumatology, Sakra World Hospital.

It was also pointed out that RA patients need to consult their doctor before taking the vaccine, who could advise them to delay immunosuppressants for two weeks after vaccination. "If the patient is doing well, we can hold back giving drugs for two weeks, but if the patient is in a bad state, we can see if we can hold back drugs after vaccination or not."

B'luru's active cases falling slowly

BENGALURU: Across the state, the number of active Covid cases has reduced to less that half in the last two months from 20,556 to 8,891, but Bengaluru's numbers have fallen by just 1,067. The Health Department data reveals that Karnataka's active cases showed an increase over the previous day only seven times between August 22 and October 22, while in Bengaluru it was 29 times. City's active cases fell from 7,762 to 6,695. Despite everything back to normal, cases in Bengaluru are falling slowly because of its high density of population. ENS

VAX HESITANCY CAN PROVE DEAR, TAKE 2ND DOSE, SUDHAKAR URGES PUBLIC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hubballi

HESITANCY to take the vaccine and complacency among people over reduced severity of the Covid-19 infection could prove costly if the third wave of the pandemic hits, Health and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar said on Friday.

Sudhakar said though he was not too sure of the arrival of the third wave, those who have kept away from the vaccine could fall prey to the virus. Those who have taken the first shot should mandatorily take the second one to become completely immune, he added.

He said that around 52 lakh people are due for the second dose, but have not got vaccinated. Health department staff have reached out to them to take their second jab at the earliest. Though the government is making all efforts to contain the infection through a large-scale immunisation drive, the virus cannot be defeated unless people cooperate, he added. While 75% of eligible adults of the nation have received the first dose, the rate in Karnataka is 83 per cent. Similarly, 38% of the state's eligible population is fully vaccinated, against 28% in the entire nation. The emphasis now is to bring the remaining 62% under the vaccine umbrella,he said. Reacting to criticism by the Congress on celebrations of one billion doses of vaccine, he said it is a historic achievement that happened in just nine months. Earlier, vaccines would come to India 10-25 years after their discovery, but now the country managed to invent its own vaccine. He also accused the Opposition of spreading canards on the vaccine, and calling it "Modi's vaccine" which could influence innocent people into avoiding the jab.

AFTER YEARS, FARMER SUICIDES WITNESS A DROP IN KARNATAKA

Good rain, better yields, seizure of sub-standard seeds cited as reasons

GREEN SHOOTS A HOPE

2021-22 96 (so far)

2020-21 656

2019-20 1,071

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

AMID the gloom of Covid pandemic and rain misery, here is some positive news. After many years, farmer suicides in Karnataka have come down drastically. In the last one-and-a-half years, 746 such cases have been reported, as against 1,076 in 2019-20.

As per data available with the state agriculture department, 746 suicides were recorded between April 2020 and September 2021. The incidence was high in North Karnataka, Mysuru and Chikkamagaluru districts.

This could be due to copious rain, resulting in better yields, experts said. Srinivasa Reddy, former director of the Karnataka State Natural Disaster Management Centre and Senior Consultant, State Disaster Management Authority, The New Indian Express pointed out that in the last couple of years, the state has been receiving good rain, which has resulted in an increase in the groundwater level to an extent. "If there is no rain, farmers will not even get 50 per cent of their investment. A good rainfall reduces distress among farmers and gives them hope. This could be one of the reasons for lesser number of suicides. There will, however, be many other factors too, including socio-economic," he said. Because of good rain, the State produced over 150 lakh tonnes of foodgrains, which is highest ever. An agriculture Department official said that in the last couple of years, they have seized more quantities of low-quality seeds, reducing losses to farmers. "We have seized over 10 lakh tonnes of sub-standard seeds in the last two years. FIRs have been registered against individuals and companies. The yield will be not more than 60 per cent if the quality of seeds is poor, forcing farmers to take the extreme step," the officer added.

Agriculture Minister BC Patil said that the reducing number of farmer suicides is the result of collective effort and good rain. "Farm laws have helped farmers get a better market. Our officials have become more vigilant and seized sub-standard seeds. Also, there is no tax for inter-state movement of agri-produce. The yield has been good. We need to focus on food-processing units which we have started. This will further provide better markets to farmers," he added. When pointed out that of the many reported suicide cases, families of the deceased farmers are yet to get compensation, Patil said there is no shortage of funds. "In some cases, Additional Commissioner Committees have to approve and furnish required documents, only then can compensation be paid," he added.

Countering the government claims, Kodihalli Chandrashekar of the Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha, insisted that farmer suicides are not coming down.

"The officials are either not registering all the suicides or this is incomplete information. This number is not acceptable as farmers continue to be in distress," he said.

JDS looks to firm up secular identity by wooing minorities

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

WHILE there has been much talk about the JDS fielding minority community candidates in the Hanagal and Sindagi by-polls, with some Congress leaders even alleging that it is JDS' way of sabotaging its prospects in both constituencies, some political experts think otherwise. They feel that it could be a long-term strategy of the JDS, which is looking to reassert its secular credentials all over again.

The dominant Vokkaliga community in the Old Mysuru region largely supports the JDS, but they alone may not give the party enough numbers in the Assembly. The last time, the party managed 37 seats because it benefitted from its tie-up with the BSP and got Dalit support.

In 2018, the JDS and BSP tied up in Karnataka and the latter contested from 18 seats. The JDS even accommodated the lone BSP MLA from Kollegal, N Mahesh, in the ministry, but he later resigned alleging interference in his ministry. Experts suggest that the tie-up helped JDS in at least 7-8 seats across the state where Dalits voted for it.

Though that is in the past now, the JDS may be looking at another large grouping, which is why the party has fielded Muslims, the experts point out. They have also assured the community of 20 seats in the next Assembly elections which will come up in 17 months time.

Sources in the BSP said a tie-up with the JDS at this juncture sounds remote, but said the party would wait and watch. When contacted, JDS state president H K Kumaraswamy too said, "We have not discussed this issue so far. If there is a suitable opportunity, there may be a tie-up."

The tie-up meant the combine got a larger share of Dalit votes which helped the JDS win more seats. In some seats like T Narasipur, Congress heavyweights like H C Mahadevappa lost to JDS' Ashwin Kumar by about 28,000 votes. In many other constituencies there was a sizeable shift of Dalit vote towards the JDS.

Political analyst B S Murthy said, "This strategy to draw minority support for the JDS may not be very easy because the party first needs to earn their trust. The primary concern of minorities is security and they may not budge so easily." The community has traditionally backed the Congress.

Only 21% fully jabbed, why celebrate, asks Siddu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

Congress Legislature Party leader and former chief minister Siddaramaiah on Friday questioned the celebration over administration of 100 crore Covid-19 vaccine doses in the country when only 21 per cent of the people have been fully vaccinated so far.

In a series of tweets, Siddaramaiah targeted the BJP and Prime Minister Narendra Modi for not jabbing the entire eligible population.

"1 billion doses sounds fancy number but the devil is in the details. Only 29 Cr people out of 139Cr are fully vaccinated, which means only about 21% are fully vaccinated. What are @BJP4India leaders celebrating for? For vaccinating just 21% of the population?" Siddaramaiah asked in a tweet.

The former chief minister also pointed out that 56 per cent of the population in the US is fully vaccinated, in China it is 70 per cent and in Canada 71 per cent.

"There may be a need for booster dose too & with even 1st doses & 2nd doses pending for large population, can we even think of booster dose? Mr PM @narendramodi, Let us put an hold to the celebrations & concentrate on vaccinating everyone(sic), he suggested.

Over 31 per cent of the country's around 93 crore adults have been administered both the doses, according to Health Ministry officials.

Big 3 come out guns blazing as campaign hits crescendo

CM Basavaraj Bommai, former CM BS Yediyurappa and a host of BJP leaders campaign for party candidate Shivaraj Sajjanar in Hanagal on Friday

Bommai, BSY launch joint attack on Cong

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Haveri

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai and former CM B S Yediyurappa continued their attack on the Congress saying that the party is on the brink of collapse and no one will benefit by following it. They were jointly campaigning for the BJP's Hanagal bypoll candidate, Shivaraj Sajjanar. Bommai pointed out that the Congress won the least number of seats in its history during the 2014 Lok Sabha polls under Rahul Gandhi as president and therefore, he had resigned. There is no future for the Congress, he stressed.

Yediyurappa also said that after Narendra Modi became Prime Minister, Congress is facing an existential crisis and they are searching for leadership. "People should extend so much support to BJP that Congress leaders leave the counting hall within an hour of counting of votes begins," he appealed. Playing the emotional card, Yediyurappa said though he is now a former CM, people still have been showering a lot of love. The late C M Udasi wanted to make Haveri a model district, and his works in Hanagal taluk will be remembered for the next 100 years, he said. Stressing that the Congress has been insulting the people of Hanagal constituency by claiming they are taking money to cast their votes, Yediyurappa said, "It is Congress culture to distribute money and play the caste cards in polls."

Releasing documents, Bommai said Congress leader Siddaramaiah, when he was CM, had announced several schemes and funds, including construction of 15 lakh houses, before the Assembly election, but none of those were implemented. Bommai and Yediyurappa visited Bommanahalli, Akki-Alur, Belagalpete and other villages in Hanagal taluk.

'Congress and JDS fighting for political survival'

VIJAYAPURA : BJP state vice-president BY Vijayendra on Friday expressed confidence of the ruling party emerging victorious in the October 30 bypoll to Sindagi Assembly constituency. Speaking to the media before participating in a public rally to garner votes for BJP candidate Ramesh Bhusanur at Almel town in Vijayapura district, Vijayendra said, "Tough the bypoll looks like a fight between three parties, in reality the Congress and the JDS are fighting for their political survival. I can say with confidence that the candidates and leaders of both the parties will vacate the counting booth once the early trends trickle in on November 2." On the Congress and JDS dragging the name of the RSS in the bypoll campaign, Vijayendra said, "I would not like to respond to such irresponsible allegations. My party will focus only on development issues and seek votes on the basis of governance." Admitting that the BJP did not have a strong base in KR Pet and Sira that went for bypolls earlier this year, Vijayendra said extensive campaigning helped the party win both the seats. "We have never won an election in those segments... but still we managed to win the last time. The situation in Sindagi is different," he said. ENS

Women welcome former CM Siddaramaiah ahead of his campaign in Hanagal on Friday. The Congress has fielded Srinivas V Mane from the constituency

Let's debate funds granted for Hanagal: Siddu to CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Haveri

ASSERTING that he had given Rs 2,400 crore for the development of Hanagal constituency when he was chief minister, opposition leader Siddaramaiah invited Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to come on stage to discuss the funds allotted for development.

Campaigning for Congress candidate Srinivas Mane at Naregal village of Hanagal taluk on Friday, Siddaramaiah said he is ready to give details of funds allotted during his tenure, and Bommai can bring documents for the discussion.

Charging the BJP government with failure to curb rising prices, he said no one had seen 'acche din' for the past seven years. "Petrol rate has touched Rs 110, diesel Rs 100 and LPG gas cylinder is at Rs 950. Is this Achhe Din?" he demanded.

He also alleged that BJP candidate Shivaraj Sajjanar and late CM Udasi had bankrupted Sangur Cooperative Sugar Factory. When Dr Chittaranjan Kalkoti was chairman of the factory, it ran at a profit of Rs 6 crore, but after Sajjanar and Udasi took charge, the factory began to run in loss and has now been privatised.

KPCC president D K Shivakumar demanded that Bommai release documents showing how much money had been spent on development of the constituency during the Congress government and BJP tenure.

The Union Government has reduced grants to the state, and though there are 25 BJP MPs from the state, they have failed to appeal to the Union government to release grants for development.

Prajwal slams Managulis for betraying JDS

VIJAYAPURA: Hassan MP Prajwal Revanna hit out at Ashok and Shantveer Managuli for quitting the JDS and joining hands with the Congress ahead of the October 30 bypoll to Sindagi, necessitated following the demise of MC Managuli. Campaigning for JDS candidate Naziya Shakeel Ahmed Angadi, Prajwal accused the Managuli brothers of betraying the JDS. "The party gave all possible positions to the late MC Managuli... Amid stiff opposition from local party workers, we fielded him for seven times from Sindagi. We also made him a minister on both occasions when he was elected to the Assembly. But his sons have betrayed us," Revanna said. While Ashok is the Congress candidate from Sindagi, Shantveer is the president of the Sindagi town municipal council. Revanna said that JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy as CM had sanctioned projects worth Rs 920 crore to Sindagi. Responding to allegations made by Shantveer that the JDS mistreated MC Managuli when he demanded a Cabinet berth, Revanna said, "I challenge Shantveer to take a pledge before God that the party mistreated his father. It is appropriate for both the brothers to quit politics." ENS

'BJP leaders have no right to speak about Cong'

ENS @ Shivamogga

LASHING out at the BJP, former MLA and Congress leader Belur Gopalakrishna on Friday said that a few leaders of the saffron party are busy criticising the Congress and making derogatory comments against some of its senior leaders whereas some of its leaders themselves were caught watching objectionable videos in the Assembly and some others are accused of rape. They don't have any right to speak about the Congress, he said.

Speaking to reporters, Gopalakrishna condemned Karnataka BJP president Nalin Kumar Kateel's recent statement on Rahul Gandhi. Those criticising the Congress and its leaders will be relegated by their own party in the next Assembly elections, he forewarned.

Pointing out that there are no stocks of chemical fertilizers with the Agriculture and Horticulture Departments, he alleged that they are being sold in black market. "How do chemical fertilizers enter the black market? Their prices have skyrocketed," he alleged. Gopalakrishna also accused State Government Employees' Association president C S Shadakshari and a BJP leader of being involved in a big transfer scam involving hundreds of crores. "From Rs 50 lakh for a police inspector's transfer to Rs 20 crore for a posting as BDA Commissioner, they are looting money," he alleged. He demanded that the state government and the Enforcement Directorate conduct a raid on Shadakshari's properties to unearth the ill-gotten wealth.

Commenting on Revenue Minister R Ashoka immersing unclaimed ashes (pinda pradhana) and conducting the last rites of Covid-19 victims, he taunted that the minister had done so out of guilt as many people died due to lack of medical facilities.

Siddaramaiah rakes up sugar factory irregularities to target Bommai

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Bengaluru

AS the campaign for the October 30 bypolls in the state heats up, Leader of Opposition in the Assembly, Siddaramaiah, is determined to dent the image of BJP's Hanagal candidate Shivaraj Sajjanar by raking up the Sangur sugar factory issue.

Winning Hanagal is a matter of prestige for Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai as it is in his home district Haveri. While Bommai has managed to put a lid on the MySugar privatisation issue by assuring that the government will take steps to revive it, Siddaramaiah has alleged that Sajjanar had engaged in corruption when the Sangur sugar factory was a cooperative. The loss-making Sangur factory was later leased out to Davanagere MP G M Siddeshwara. In public rallies and on Twitter, Siddaramaiah has hit out at Sajjanar saying when he was the vice-president of the sugar factory, the latter even did not spare gunny bags and sold them to make money. "A probe conducted under the 1959 Cooperatives Act instructed you to repay Rs 33 lakh. Have you forgotten about it?" Siddaramaiah questioned Sajjanar.

Sajjanar, however, retorted asking why Siddaramaiah did not order for a probe when he was the chief minister. Bommai, however, came to the rescue of Sajjanar saying that the factory went to the dogs during the Congress regime, but now, under the BJP rule, crushing of sugarcane has commenced. While the government's stake in the factory is about Rs 2.51 crore, the management has taken a loan of Rs 28.22 crore. Siddaramaiah also accused Sajjanar of grabbing 21 acres of government land at Gowrapura. He claimed that he had granted Rs 2,400 crore for the development of Hanagal, which Bommai has disputed. "Let us discuss our contribution to Hanagal on a common platform," Siddaramaiah challenged Bommai. Interestingly, Medium and Large Scale Industries Minister Murugesh Nirani, who owns a sugar mill, has been made BJP in-charge for the Hanagal bypoll.

'No police excess in M'luru during anti-CAA protest'

When HC asked if anyone was guilty, govt advocate said no

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government on Friday informed the Karnataka High Court that it has concluded 'there was no excess by the police' with regard to the firing that occurred in Mangaluru and resulted in the death of two people during protests against the Citizenship (Amendment) Act held in December 2019.

Additional Advocate General Dhyan Chinnappa made the submission before the division bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum during the hearing of a public interest litigation filed by freedom fighter HS Doreswamy and K Ashraf from Dakshina Kannada in 2020.

Chinnappa submitted that the state government accepted the report of the magisterial inquiry and concluded that nothing was wrong with the action taken by the police.

When the court asked if anyone was found guilty, Chinnappa said no. The complaint against the police was received, probed and a report was filed by the CID.

Senior counsel Prof Ravivarma Kumar said that 10 complaints were filed against police atrocities against a peaceful protest. There was a positive direction from the high court to register an FIR and investigate in accordance with the law. Not a single case/FIR was registered and investigated. No chargesheet was filed before the magistrate. Not even a single complainant was examined. "I have not furnished a copy of the report. Absolutely it is for the police, by the police and of the police," he argued.

Chinnappa submitted, "We have investigated every complaint. First, an inquiry was conducted by the CID and then by the district magistrate. There was a conclusion that no excess force was used by the police. Everything was submitted to the court in a sealed in cover".

The court directed the government to file an affidavit explaining the procedure adopted in taking up complaints and conducting inquiries. The hearing was adjourned to November 30, 2021.

The State Government had appointed the Udupi Deputy Commissioner to conduct the probe into the police firing and the report was submitted to the high court by the government.

CBI ARRESTS SIX MORE FOR POSTS ON AP JUDGES

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayawada

THE Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) on Friday arrested six more persons for making derogatory posts on social media against judges and the judiciary. With this, the number of arrested in the case related to making objectionable social media posts against judges and the judiciary went up to 11. Five more accused in the case are yet to arrested.

According to a CBI press release, Sridhar Reddy Avuthu, Jalagam Venkata Satyanarayana, Guda Sridhar Reddy, Sreenath Suswaram, Kishore Kumar Darisa and Sudduluri Ajay Amruth were arrested. Later, they were produced before a competent court in Guntur.

The CBI had registered a case against 16 persons under Sections 153(A), 504, 505 (2) and 506 of the IPC and Section 67 of the IT Act, 2000 on November 11, 2020. It took over the investigation of 12 FIRs from the State Crime Investigation Department (APCID) following the Andhra Pradesh High Court order. After registering the case, the CBI has so far traced 13 of the 16 accused named in the FIRs on various digital platforms. The CBI is trying to get three other accused, who are said to be abroad, for questioning.

"The original FIRs were registered based on complaints from the Registrar General of AP High Court. It was alleged that the accused made derogatory social media posts intentionally targeting judges and the judiciary following some verdicts delivered by the High Court," CBI spokesperson RC Joshi said.

The CBI also carried out searches at the houses of the accused that led to seizure of several incriminating documents and it was also revealed that one of them had got a passport in a different name.

Initially, the CBI arrested five persons in connection with the case and filed five separate chargesheets against them. The CBI is investigating the case with the help of INTERPOL and Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty in Criminal Matters (MLAT) to collect evidence from abroad. As part of the probe, the CBI had also taken measures to get the objectionable posts removed from social media platforms and public domains.

CUSTOMS PROBE

Smuggled gold turned into jewellery

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

THE Customs department which probed the Thiruvananthapuram gold smuggling case on Friday said, the 167 kg of smuggled gold was converted into ornaments and sold at various markets, including in Hyderabad. They filed a 3,000-page chargesheet at the Ernakulam Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate Court.

As many as 29 people have been named in the chargesheet, including M Sivasankar, former Principal Secretary to the Chief Minister.

Former UAE Consulate employee, Sarith P S, is the first accused. Swapna Suresh and Sandeep Nair have also been named accused in the charge sheet. According to the customs, K T Rameez was the mastermind behind the smuggling. Interestingly, the customs has arraigned customs broker Godfrey Prathap, and Emirates Sky Cargo in the list of accused.

Customs has not mentioned that the smuggled gold was used for funding terrorist activities, though the National Investigation Agency (NIA) had claimed the same.

Customs has approached the Union ministry of external affairs to decide on arraigning former diplomats of the UAE Consulate, including the former consul-general. Though Swapna and Sarith have confessed, the customs has not made them approvers in the case.

It was found out that 167kg of gold was smuggled on 15 occasions in 2019 and 2020 at Thiruvananthapuram airport.

B'luru's tech ecosystem strong: CII

Mixed response to Wildlife Act changes

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

JUST days after the Centre issued a draft on the amendments to the forest conservation act, the amendments to the wildlife protection act 1972, have also been made public.

This has evoked a mixed response from conservationists and forest department officials. They are demanding an extension from October 23, as many need to go through the list and responses. They also asked for more clarity about the changes in list of animals in the schedule, as well as more severe punishments and penalties. On a positive front, the Centre will now have the power to declare conservation reserves. Not leaving it to only state authority has raised hope in better protection, and the listing of more reserves like Mulayanagiri and Kudremukh as tiger reserves. "Under the present wildlife protection act, when an accused is to be booked, no FIR is registered, but a wildlife report is filed, following which a complaint is filed before the magistrate. This need to change, so that cases can be stronger like CRPC. The penalties should be more severe," said a conservationist working with the forest department. Officials from the department highlighted that giving the Centre power to declare conservation reserves will be good for places where the state political interference is too high.

Conservationists however sought clarity on the revision of schedules and clauses, as asked for the revision in scheduled animals and plants list be made public.

The amendment of that makes all hand over wildlife trophies to the forest department, as state property has drawn appreciation, as has the amendment to the arms licence renewal.

POSITIVE NEWS ON ECONOMIC FRONT, GOVT MUST KEEP SPENDING

The weather has its seasons and so do economic forecasts. The latest round, coming on the back of a Chinese economic slowdown, beats the drum of optimism and India's potential of regaining the world's fastest growing economy tag. If the scorecard from the World Bank to the IMF to private forecasts place the FY22 growth rate at a conservative 9.5% and thereabouts, the government believes it's about to crack double digits on the year. If that happens, the achievement will be praiseworthy and efforts must focus on thawing national output not to its pre-pandemic levels, but to pre-slowdown state and lower unemployment rate—which shot up to frightening levels owing to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Forecasts peg India to be at the start of a large capex cycle, which can ensure a sustained real GDP growth of 7% in the medium-term. Several factors appear to be contributing to this belief, including rising exports and robust tax collections. The government initiatives such as asset monetisation and the recent privatisation drive raised hopes of disinvestment proceeds picking up steam. While bank credit growth remains a concern, the resolving bad loan situation is comforting. While booming corporate profits are welcome, private investments are still sore and so is capacity utilisation. Yet, some like Morgan Stanley expect that a virtuous cycle is in the offing, supported by strong capex. This cycle, they believe, will be unlike the past decade and more like the one seen during 2003-07, allowing strong growth rates while keeping macro stability risks at bay.

Rising capex lifts employment and boosts income and consumption, creating a virtuous cycle. But until private sector investment picks up, the government must continue holding the spending baton. States too must weigh in and increase expenditure, particularly on healthcare and education. All said, the risks to the positive sentiment from external factors cannot be completely avoided or escaped. Be it in the form of US interest rate hikes and capital outflows or volatility in crude, energy and commodity prices can cause an upheaval and knock down India's growth story once again.

SPREADING VAX AWARENESS IN TN

The National Committee on Serious Adverse Events Following Immunisation (AEFI) has concluded that the death of Vivekh—a popular actor in Tamil Nadu and once one of the faces of the state's Covid-19 vaccination campaign—two days after he took the jab in April was coincidental. The committee has ruled that the official medical reason for the 59-year-old's death was a blockage of the heart and it had nothing to do with the Covaxin shot that he had taken. What created a mess for the state was that his vaccination had taken place in a televised event attended by several dignitaries, including the state's health secretary. His death soon after had led to several conspiracy theories and social media campaigns against vaccination.

The news comes as a big relief for Tamil Nadu's vaccination drive. That fact is that despite several efforts by the government, it is yet to pick up pace. While India celebrates the completion of 100 crore doses, the vaccine hesitancy among the urban poor and the rural community continues to be a reality in the state. As the fear of the third wave has nearly vanished, a feeling of being safe and complacent with one dose is palpable. On the flip side, the fear of side effects has kept many farmers and daily-wage workers off the needle as the farming season is underway. Despite mega vaccination camps, 74% of its adult population is yet to go for the second jab. The state lags behind the national average (29%) and all other South Indian states. The government is rightly focusing on those who are yet to receive their second dose after the mandatory three-month gap following the first one. According to TN's health minister Ma Subramanian, as many as 57 lakh people are due for the second dose.

The state has managed to administer the first dose to 73% of its eligible population, marginally better than the national average of 70%. But this is much lower than the numbers lapped up by its southern counterparts. For TN, there is a long way to go and the government needs to pull out all the stops.

Children may become the main source of continuing endemic transmission of Covid. To minimise transmission and mutation risks, inoculating them becomes a public health imperative

WHY WE NEED TO VACCINATE OUR KIDS AGAINST COVID

SOUMYADIP SINHA

DR T JACOB JOHN
Former Professor of Clinical Virology, CMC, Vellore

DR M S SESHADRI
Medical Director, Thirumalai Mission Hospital, Ranipet

Now that the pandemic has waned in India, we are in for the long haul of endemic Covid. Even now, for the individual who gets Covid, the attendant risks—serious disease, hospitalisation and death—are just the same as during the peak of the pandemic. We cannot let our defence down just because the toughest phase is over.

The whirlwind of vaccine development and rollout has enabled high inoculation coverage in many rich countries; among developing nations, India leads, with around 30% of adults vaccinated with two doses, while many are struggling to even reach two digit figures. We anticipate that one or more vaccines may be approved for children fairly soon.

In endemic times, the coronavirus infection will affect three groups of individuals: primary infection in the non-immune, reinfection in those previously infected and breakthrough infections in those vaccinated. Now vaccination should be repurposed by giving (1) highest priority to save the lives of the elderly and vulnerable who must be specifically targeted; (2) second priority for the non-immune, including children (as soon as a vaccine is approved) to retard virus transmission; (3) third priority to boost immunity in previously infected (to prevent reinfection) and previously vaccinated (to prevent break-through infection).

Of these groups, children constitute the majority in view of our demographics. The 6-18 age group is a staggering 320 million. The 4th ICMR sero-survey showed that 50% of children were already infected by the end of July, leaving a susceptible pool of 160 million.

True, Covid is not a frequent killer disease in normal children; Multi-System Inflammatory Syndrome of Covid is very rare. But the long-term consequences of non-life-threatening Covid are largely unknown; only careful long-term follow-up will inform us about the natural history of childhood Covid. While we wait for follow-up studies, prevention must also go on in parallel.

Covid in children tends to affect socio-economically disadvantaged families to a disproportionately greater extent, a study in the US showed. For them, the need for hospital admissions and ICU care are greater than in children of well-to-do families. Furthermore, like adults, children with comorbidities—asthma, obesity, malnutrition, etc.—are at higher risk of severe disease. These factors underscore the need to swiftly plan a Covid vaccination programme for children in India.

Vaccination is the most cost-effective public health tool of intervention, so are all medical students taught. Vaccination is not just for saving lives of the lucky ones who get vaccinated, but it is also a tool in the epidemiologic management of infectious diseases. Vaccination in healthcare is to prevent disease in the individual (individual benefit); vaccination as a public health programme is to control human-to-human transmitted infectious diseases by building up herd immunity (community benefit).

The Expanded Programme on Immunisation (EPI, 1974) chose vaccines against six killer diseases—childhood TB, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, measles and polio—initially. That gave the impression that only vaccines against diseases with high mortality are relevant in childhood. The early years are also an opportunity to lay the foundation for lifelong immunity against many diseases, like the Hepatitis B and Human Papillomavirus vaccines to prevent serious chronic adult diseases, one for liver cirrhosis/cancer and the other for cancer of the uterine cervix. Even the Covid jab should be considered one more such vaccine. As more and more adults are fully vaccinated, the need for the adult Covid jab will dwindle, but the childhood vaccination programme is for the long-term, till such time as the virus is virtually eradicated.

Those who believe that childhood Covid vaccination is unnecessary err, because:

1. In the interests of society at large, most parents have only one or two children, therefore society, in turn, must protect the life of every child. Vaccination then becomes the birthright of every child.

Should children wait for their 18th birthday for vaccination? Administering a safe vaccine as early as possible to children elicits the best immune responses and forms a firm foundation for life-long immunity

2. William Wordsworth has famously said, "The child is father of the man." With endemic Covid, every non-immune child will one day get the infection. Should they wait for their 18th birthday for vaccination? Administering a safe vaccine as early as possible to children elicits the best immune responses and forms a firm foundation for life-long immunity.

3. With schools opening up, children and adolescents who contract the coronavirus infection at school will carry it home and spread it to the elderly and vulnerable and those with waned immunity. A very recent important paper by investigators in Harvard University concludes: "Asymptomatic and symptomatic children can carry high quantities of SARS-CoV-2 irrespective of disease severity. Our results suggest that children can serve as potential reservoirs for SARS-CoV-2 and viral evolution." Indeed, children may become the main source of continuing endemic transmission. In order to minimise virus transmission and the risk of emergence of new variants by mutations, vaccinating children becomes a public health imperative.

Of course, we need to be cautious—the vaccine should be safe, on par with all other childhood shots. Careful short- and long-term follow-up of vaccinated children to monitor their safety is mandatory.

As soon as regulatory agencies declare any vaccine safe and effective in children and the supply is enough to avoid clashing interests of adults versus children, the government ought to roll out vaccination in kids. Now is the time to plan.

The first priority should be children with comorbidities, who are at increased risk of serious disease when infected. Their follow-up should be meticulous so as to provide accurate information on safety and efficacy.

The next priority is school going children aged 12 to 18. Plans ought to be ready when any vaccine is approved. Parents, public and all school and health authorities should be well-informed through all available channels. A nationwide school-based vaccination campaign is doable. It may be piloted in selected schools to cover about 10,000 children while collecting daily follow-up information for two to four weeks before a nationwide campaign. For the next group, children aged 6 to 12, a similar school-based strategy can be implemented.

Finally, Covid vaccination could be started in the 2-5 age group and nested within the Universal Immunisation Programme—either as a standalone vaccine or concurrent with others. Concurrent vaccination calls for immediate research to confirm non-interference between different jabs.

We are on the threshold of extending Covid vaccination to children as part of routine immunisation. This important and futuristic public health action must be carried out with due diligence and caution.

NEW QUAD SIGNALS INDIA'S STRATEGIC SHIFT IN MIDDLE EAST

P R KUMARASWAMY
Professor at JNU. Teaches contemporary Middle East there

Nearly three decades after Prime Minister P V Narasimha Rao broke from the past and normalised relations with Israel in January 1992, India is taking a major step in framing the Jewish state within its larger Middle East policy. Until now, the South Bloc factored Israel in its policy vis-a-vis Washington. However, during his five-day visit to Israel this month, External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar laid the foundations for a larger regional approach with Israel as a pivot, through a virtual meeting with his American, Emirati and Israeli counterparts. Already there are suggestions that the 'minilateral' could include like-minded countries like Bahrain, Egypt, Jordan and France.

The new and mini Quad (comprising India, Israel, the UAE and the US) is innovative, non-confrontationist and hence will be enduring. The other one comprising Australia, India, Japan and the US, the seeds of which were sown in 2007, is hampered by a host of security challenges. These countries were brought together primarily due to their concerns vis-a-vis Chinese strategic ascendance, and the Quad faced a host of political and economic hurdles. With China as their largest trading partner, none have the luxury of being openly anti-Beijing. Opposition to China being the common (if not the only) unifier presented a negative view of the Quad. Moreover, when the US needed a stronger framework, it settled for AUKUS without any prior notification or consultation with other members of Quad.

Two, the new Middle Eastern Quad is different and will be more challenging for India than the Indo-Pacific one. It will not be a talk shop like others where India is a member. Besides the hype and photo ops, what were the tangible gains for India? Statements and declarations are not a substitute for deliverables. The new Quad is framed as an economic forum, akin to the ASEAN in its earliest stages. Initial reports highlight cooperation in infrastructure, trade, technology, health and big data aimed at economic growth. Even cooperation in maritime security would involve freedom of navigation for all littoral and non-littoral states, and ensuring safe passage for oil and non-oil cargo, especially in the Persian Gulf region.

Three, unlike the Indo-Pacific Quad, the Middle Eastern one does not appear to be aimed at any particular country, ideology or group. There is no one to gang up against. Though Iran could be a concern for some, others do not see Tehran as an existential threat. While there would be a greater exchange of ideas, some would not sign up with Israel for an aggressive posture or actions. Both the UAE and India have reasons to develop stronger ties with Iran, while the Biden administration is less virulent on Iran than its predecessor. However, there is an unintended benefit; since the mini-Quad enhances New Delhi's regional importance, Iran would have to accommodate India in its Afghan policy.

The new Middle Eastern Quad will push India to transform itself. While the US might be more lenient towards Indian stretchable time, Israel and the UAE are impatient countries. Their economic transformation was achieved with greater attention to efficiency, lessening cost and reducing lead-time in deliveries

Four, since economic cooperation is the prime focus, the Quad will not progress only on the shoulders of the Ministry of External Affairs. The economic wing within embassies (introduced in the mid-1990s following economic reforms) will have to be scaled up, and the South Bloc will have to bring in other government and non-government players to fructify the forum. This means more business suits and fewer bandhgalas if this Quad is to succeed. This will not be easy either. If the economy is the driver, then the private sector will also have to scale up their size and imagination. Even three decades after economic liberalisation, their presence beyond the borders is negligible and they still operate mainly as sub-contractors, vendors and suppliers.

Five, Rao's decision to normalise relations with Israel offered India an opportunity to reshape its Middle East policy. But that it took nearly three decades to happen underscores the regional complexities and India's inhibitions in pursuing a more assertive policy with Israel. While Prime Minister Modi dehyphenated Israel and Palestine, devising a regional policy on the former had to wait until the Biden administration. Interestingly, Jaishankar's third visit to Israel in four years began from Abu Dhabi, where he held discussions with the Emirati officials.

And six, this Quad will push India to transform itself. While the US might be more lenient towards Indian stretchable time, Israel and the UAE are impatient countries. Their economic transformation was achieved with greater attention to efficiency, lessening cost and reducing lead-time in deliveries. Their preference for technology and innovation is partly motivated by their 'wanted-it-yesterday' mode of operations. India, on the other hand, is eloquent in its promises and miserly in deliverables. Not an ideal partner for the work culture of Israel and the UAE. Hence, the success of the new Middle Eastern Quad rests on India moving away from rhetoric, focusing on the deliverables and hopefully, improving its work culture and efficiency.

Another wake-up call

The recent flooding in Kerala is another wake-up call (Kerala disaster and the lessons learnt and ignored, Oct 22). As the editorial points out, the government should ban quarrying in ecologically fragile areas and stop encroachment of water bodies. If not now, when?

M Vinesh, Thiruvananthapuram

Rising U'khand flood toll

That the toll in Uttarakhand due to the heavy floods has now increased to over 60 makes one sad (Monsoon overstay causes U'khand mayhem, Oct 22). Being a hilly state, preparations for the rainy season are a sine qua non. At the same time, one wonders whether the disaster was caused by natural reasons or due to the callousness of humans in not maintaining the ecological balance in the sensitive Himalayan region.

Many languish in prison

This is with reference to SRK visits jail, NCB lands up at his home (Oct 22). The drugs charge levelled against superstar Shah Rukh Khan's son Aryan Khan by the NCB is getting more complicated with the inclusion of other Bollywood personalities. The case would not have attracted such publicity and media glare without the involvement of the star son. There are no doubt countless other nameless individuals behind bars having been booked by the NCB, about whom no one cares.

A team effort

This is with reference to Team India responds to adversity with achievement (Oct 22). Kudos to Modi's government for administering 100 crore Covid-19 shots. Our youth, doctors, healthcare workers, police personnel and religious leaders standing in unison as 'Team India' have also contributed to the achievement.

Address rising fuel prices

It is indeed great that we have scaled a remarkable height when it comes to vaccination. But another feat that is not a cause of celebration but a matter of pressing concern is the prices of fuel reaching Himalayan heights. It is even being justified by ruling party leaders with the claim that the extra revenue is being used for 'free' vaccination.

N Nagarajan, Secunderabad

Remarkable achievement

The PM has explained in detail how the people of India have transformed a serious adversity into an unsurpassable achievement. Early preparation, trust of the people marked by very low vaccine hesitancy, absence of a VIP culture and the sterling contribution of scientists and health workers are the main reasons for the remarkable effort.

Dharmarajan A K, Thalassery

Impossible is nothing

India has proved to the world that nothing is impossible when the intent is honest and for the welfare of all. Credit goes to health officials, manufacturers of vaccines and several other stakeholders whose efforts have brought cheer despite attempts to create distrust about the efficacy of the vaccines.

Rahul focuses on consensus candidate, Guj Cong revamp

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AHEAD of major organisational changes in the Congress party in Gujarat, party leader Rahul Gandhi Friday held discussion on leadership issues with a group of leaders from the state and a decision on the matter is likely soon.

Sources said the party is likely to pick a senior party leader to lead the Congress in the state where the elections are due by the end of 2022. During the meeting, Rahul asked them to prepare for the elections and sought views on a consensus candidate to be named as Gujarat Pradesh Congress Committee chief.

The meeting was attended by 15 state leaders, including working president Hardik Patel, four former state chiefs — Bharatsinh Solanki, Arjun Modhwadia, Siddharth Patel and Amit Chavda — among others. AICC general secretary organisation KC Venugopal and AICC in-charge for Gujarat Raghu Sharma were also present at the meeting.

The discussions were held on the appointment of the president of Gujarat Pradesh Congress Committee (GPCC) and Leader of Opposition (LOP) ahead of the 2022 assembly elections. Both the posts have been lying vacant since March this year since Amit Chavda and Paresh Dhanani submitted their resignations following the party's poor performance in the local body polls.

Sharma will discuss names of consensus candidates for the post with party leaders and would send for final approval of the party high command.

Sources said that Rahul Gandhi could visit Gujarat next month to enthuse the party workers while planning is on for a 'Chintan Shivir'.

HARISH CHOUDHARY IS PUNJAB IN-CHARGE

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR & VINEET UPADHYAY @ New Delhi/Dehradun

THE Congress has appointed Harish Choudhary as the new in-charge of the All India Congress Committee in Punjab in place of Harish Rawat, who had sought to relieve himself of the charge a few days ago.

Choudhary is the Revenue Minister in the Congress government in Rajasthan. The party is considering Rawat's request to be posted in Uttarakhand. Choudhary, said to be a troubleshooter in the Rajasthan Congress, is expected to sort things out in Punjab after the removal of Amarinder Singh. Infighting has intensified in Punjab between new Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi and state party chief Navjot Singh Sidhu.

Meanwhile, party leaders said that Harish Rawat wanted to consolidate his position in Uttarakhand. "Rawat will continue to be a CWC member. His presence is required in UP and Uttarakhand where polls are due next year," said a senior party leader.

The Congress veteran had requested the party leadership on October 20 to relieve him so that he can focus on Uttarakhand where rain-related disasters has affected people.

Rawat travelled to disaster hit Nainital district. He also alleged that there has been no relief work by the BJP government.

"The state government must declare the Nainital district disaster hit and work towards relief accordingly. There has been no proper relief work by the government," said Rawat.

"We are giving 10 days to the Uttarakhand government and if there is no proper relief work initiated, we will go for hunger strike and then protests."

The party will also kick off a sustained agitation programme from November 19 to take on the BJP government on issues of inflation, farmer agitation and monetisation policy. Sources said that the meeting will discuss a roadmap of activities and strategies to be undertaken and for the assembly elections.

Ensured VIP culture of entitlement does not dominate vax drive: Modi

Asserts public participation proved key in the country logging 100 crore Covid vaccinations

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

PRIME MINISTER Narendra Modi on Friday said public participation had been the first line of defence against the Covid pandemic. He hailed the feat of 100 crore vaccinations in the country, saying that it's not just a figure, but a reflection of the strength of the country.

"If the disease does not discriminate, then there cannot be any discrimination in the vaccination. That's why it was ensured that the VIP culture of entitlement does not dominate the vaccination campaign," said Modi in an address to the nation a day after India registered 100 crore vaccinations against the Covid-19.

Reiterating that India's response against the Covid-19 has been based on science, PM Modi said that the "entire vaccination programme has been science-born, science-driven and science-based". He also asserted that the vaccination campaign has again demonstrated India's status as the global pharma hub. Stating that there's an all round positive outlook, PM Modi said that he sees optimism everywhere. "Today not only are record investments coming in Indian companies but new employment opportunities are also being created. With record investment in start-ups, unicorns are emerging," said PM Modi, while asserting improved economic outlook of the country.

PM Modi also exhorted the people to support the self-reliance pitch of the government, seeking support for "vocal for local" campaign. He advised caution amid the festival season, saying that "no matter how good the cover is, no matter how modern the armour is, weapons are not given up while the battle is on. There is no reason to get careless. Celebrate festivals with utmost precautions."

PM Modi emphasised that while developed countries had decades of expertise in researching and developing vaccines. India mostly depended on vaccines made by these countries.

Watch out for vax hesitancy, say experts

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

A day after India reached a significant milestone of administering 1 billion Covid19 vaccine doses, public health experts pointed out that the road ahead may be tough as the challenges include raising two dose coverage, tackling vaccine hesitancy and reaching remote areas.

As per government data, a little over 75% of the adult population in the country has received at least one dose of the vaccine while the percentage covered with both doses is just about 31%.

Further breaking this data, health economist Rijo M John pointed out that India still has about 7 crore people above 45 who are yet to get their first dose while 19 crore who are above 45 years of age are yet to get their second dose. Also, more than 3 crore people who are above 60 years of age have not received a single dose and 7.5 crore are yet to get their second dose, he said.

Public health expert Anant Bhan said that the country should now focus on ensuring that the two dose coverage continues to rise, and that pockets where vaccination efforts might not have yet reached adequately are reached out, including continuing to address concerns about the vaccine and vaccination efforts. "We must also keep track of global scientific buzz around the need for boosters, especially for subgroups," he said.

Virologist Shahid Jameel, fellow, Oxford University's Green Templeton College said the emphasis should be on extending full vaccination coverage.

Oppn cites dismal rate of vaccination

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE Opposition questioned on Prime Minister Narendra Modi claim of science-borne, science-driven and science-based 1-billion vaccinations milestone achieved in the country on October 21.

Among others from opposition, the leaders of Congress party questioned were first who questioned the government record of last 10 months of vaccination.

Questioning the milestone of 100 crore vaccinations, the Congress party accused the BJP-led government of being engrossed in 'eventology' and celebrating 'Jashnee-e-Statistics' on the issue of vaccinations, instead of presenting the real pictures on the dismal rate of vaccination.

Pawan Khera, national spokesperson for Congress on Friday soon after the Prime Minister Narendra Modi addressed to the nation, said, "The prime minister's address has come as an insult to all those people who have lost their loves ones because of the mismanagement by the government."

In the same way, Randeep Singh Surjewala, general secretary and member of CWC, also questioned the record of vaccinations asking the PM to reply as to why 42 crore adults in the country have not been fully vaccinated and why 32 crore people are still not being administered even a single dose.

Gaurav Vallabh, INC spokesperson at a hurriedly called media interface at AICC HQ on Friday, said, "Only 21% of our population has been doubly vaccinated and the rate of vaccination has also reduced from October 11. And vaccinating only 21% in the last 10 months is not a matter of claims."

Sitaram Yechuri, senior leader, CPI (M) also expressed doubt over the claim that hardly 21% of population has been vaccinated. "Modi government has abandoned its own target of fully vaccinating all adults by the year end.

Pinaka, Smerch add to Army's firepower at LAC

MAYANK SINGH @ Tenga (Arunachal)

IN a rare display of its long range offensive artillery capacity, the Indian Army's units in LAC's eastern sector showcased Pinaka Multi-barrel Rocket Launcher and Smerch Multi Rocket Launcher on Friday.

Both Smerch and Pinaka — among the most potent rocket systems of the Army — are designed and developed to deliver high volume of firepower at critical time in a short duration.

The rocket units showcased mock drill of attacking the enemy positions in the areas bordering Assam and Arunachal Pradesh. "These long range vectors of Indian Army can strike deep into the enemy territory with precision," said Colonel Gaurav Sood, the commanding officer of the Pinaka Regiment.

A battery of six launchers of Pinaka can fire a salvo of 72 rockets in 44 seconds and neutralise enemy assets in an area of 1000m by 800m. Additionally, upgraded version of Pinaka ammunition can land up to a range of 75km with superior precision.

The indigenously developed Pinaka rockets are meant to engage targets up to 38 km at mean sea level but its effectiveness changes in areas like mountains. "At these altitudes, the ranges are enhanced significantly which further augments the deep strike capabilities of the weapon systems," said Lt Col Samarth serving with the Pinaka Regiment in the eastern sector.

With a range of up to 90 km, a battery of four Smerch launchers can fire a salvo of 48 rockets in 40 seconds neutralising an area of 1,200m X 1,200m.

The two rocket systems are in addition to the Army bolstering its long range offensive deployment in the eastern sector with artillery guns Bofors and Ultra Light Howitzer M777 and upgraded L-70 air defence guns. Also, other missile systems have been brought into the inventory of the forces in the area.

SANGH KEEN TO END FARMER AGITATION

MANISH ANAND @ New Delhi

THE farm agitation is likely to be discussed during the RSS meeting later this month amid growing concern in the saffron camp on the prevailing stalemate over the protests.

Over 350 delegates of the Sangh's Rashtriya Karyakarini Mandal will deliberate on the "organisational matters, including expansion works" from October 28 to October 30 in Dharwad. The zonal and regional heads along with the top echelons of the RSS will hold "review" meetings. While the RSS officially maintains that the meeting will focus on matters related to organisation expansion, it is learnt that the ground feedback by the functionaries can also be shared, which may include the ongoing farm agitation and its likely impact on the polls.

After the Supreme Court's intervention, the government has so far not engaged with the farmers' unions with both sides showing no signs to compromise with their positions.

It is learnt that RSS is keen to open a window for negotiations with farm unions despite holding the view that the "agitation is politically motivated and patronised by vested interests whose businesses will be affected by the reform measures".

At its meetings, RSS functionaries have noted that the ongoing stalemate is affecting the public perception about the government. The Sangh's farm wing, Bhartiya Kisan Sangh, has also recently held protests against the prevailing situations of the farmers.

U'khand veggie prices rise as landslides hit supply

VINEET UPADHYAY @ Dehradun

AT a time when people of Kumaon region in Uttarakhand are picking up the pieces in the aftermath of a rain-triggered disaster, blocked roads and spiraling fuel costs have pushed the prices of vegetables to the stratosphere.

Tomato prices across the region soared beyond ₹100 from ₹45-55 a week ago. The prices are unlikely to cool down anytime soon as the blocked roads in the region have throttled the supply lines, even creating a fuel shortage.

Commissioner of Kumaon division Sushil Kumar said relief works are being carried out on a war footing, with priority to opening routes and helping the affected in all the six districts of Kumaon.

A fair picture of the ground situation can be drawn by taking into account the prices of tomato, apple and petrol in the six districts of the division. Be it Pithoragarh, Almora, Champawat, Bageshwar, Udham Singh Nagar or Nainital, tomato to hovered in the region of ₹100-120 a kg, while a similar quantity of apple could set one back by ₹100-125. While tomato was cheapest in Bageshwar (₹70 a kg), a litre of petrol there could cost as high as ₹119. Petrol was cheapest in Champawat with a tag of ₹100.46 a litre.

> I assure there is no dearth of resources for relief work. Instructions have been issued to the officials to clear the roads on war footing
> P S Dhami, Chief Minister

Vikram Singh Chadha, president of Hills Petroleum Dealer Association, attributed the price rise to choked roads. "No supply of petroleum tanker has been received in Kumaon districts in the last four days due to the heavy rains and landslides. Similarly, the supply of vegetables, too, was hit. Once the routes open, there will be some relief," he said.

Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami visited the disaster-stricken areas in Chamoli on Friday and announced to donate his one-month salary to CM Relief Fund.

Death toll touches 68

Meanwhile, the death toll in the disaster rose to 68, with Nainital reporting the most deaths. Dozens of connecting roads are yet to be cleared or are broken beyond repair for now. Officials said relief work is on but it will take time to rebuild the damaged infrastructure across the region.

Ananya grilled over drugs chat with Aryan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

THE Narcotics Control Bureau on Friday grilled film actress Ananya Panday for the second consecutive day on Friday in connection with the Cruise party drug case. Ananya's name has figured in a WhatsApp chat of actor Shah Rukh Khan's son Aryan Khan.

Ananya – accompanied by her actor-father Chunkey Panday – was called by the NCB to its office and was questioned for the first time over chats linked to the Cruise case. After the four-hour grueling questioning session, she left the premises with her father. Sources said the NCB sought to know from here the source of their drugs and the names of the suppliers. NCB officials said Ananya has been cooperating with the probe.

Meanwhile, Shah Rukh Khan's bodyguard was seen at the NCB office. Sources said he was on the premises to furnish additional documents sought by the NCB. Aryan Khan is lodged at Mumbai's Arthur Road jail. He was arrested on October 3, a day after the NCB conducted a high-profile raid on a cruise ship off the Mumbai coast. NCB claims Aryan Khan is connected to an international drug peddler.

NCB deputy director general Ashok Mutha Jain said Ananya Panday has been called again on Monday to take the ongoing process further. Asked if the actor has spoken anything about the alleged WhatsApp chats with Aryan Khan, Jain said he can not share details related to the investigation.

There was heavy deployment of police personnel at the NCB office, where barricades were put up as a large number of media persons had gathered outside.

Shah's Kashmir visit starts today

Women to be frisked for the first time since 1990s, internet suspended in some parts

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah would arrive in Srinagar on Saturday amid unprecedented security measures for a three-day visit to Jammu and Kashmir to review the security situation in the wake of the recent targeted killings of civilians by terrorists and assess the developmental works.

It would be Shah's first visit to J&K since the abrogation of Articles 370 and 35A, and the bifurcation of the erstwhile state on August 5, 2019.

On the security front, temporary checkpoints and new bunkers have been created in Srinagar and other parts of the Valley. For the first time since terrorism rose in the Valley in the 1990s, women CRPF personnel have been deployed in city centre, Lal Chowk, and other areas to frisk women. The authorities have also suspended mobile internet in some parts of the Valley as a precautionary measure.

The famed Boulevard Road on the banks of Dal Lake would remain closed to the public from October 23 to 25, with people being asked to take designated alternative routes.

Shah's visit comes in the wake of the recent targeted killings of migrant workers and minority community members in the Valley. At least 12 civilians, including five migrant workers, three minority community members and four locals, have been shot dead by terrorists this month. Sources said Shah would hold meetings with top civil and security officials. Top MHA officials would be accompanying him.

16 prisoners shifted to agra jail

Srinagar: A day before home minister Amit Shah's visit to J&K, the Lt Governor administration ordered the shifting of 26 prisoners — booked under the Public Safety Act (PSA) and lodged in different jails in J&K — to the Agra Central Jail in Uttar Pradesh. The government has not given any reason for the shifting of prisoners detained since September last.

The itinerary

On Sunday, Shah would visit Jammu, where he would address a public rally. BJP spokesman Arun Gupta told TNIE that Shah would address the gathering at the JDA ground in Jammu and 30,000-40,000 people are expected to attend. Later, Shah would travel back to Srinagar and hold meetings with officials and Lt Governor Manoj Sinha before leaving for Delhi on Monday. Officials said the home minister is likely to press the security agencies to be more proactive and target terrorists to curb the incidents of civilian targeting.

'China's space, cyber capabilities growing'

"WE have witnessed China's capabilities in ship building, land-based conventional ballistic and cruise missiles and its integrated air defence. Its space and cyber capabilities are growing exponentially over the last decade. In December 2015, China set up a PLA (People's Liberation Army) strategic force, which we know has capabilities to influence the electro-magnetic spectrum, cyber and space spheres. All this is changing the way the war is fought," he said, adding, "As per the data I have, after the USA, China has the largest number of satellites in space, 281, as against 64 from Russia and 33 from India."

Emphasising India's need to be prepared for a non-conventional war, Kumar said artificial intelligence, robotics and information, cyber and space warfare play an important role as new technologies have a disruptive effect in the defence of any country.

Kumar said, "It is going to change the symmetry between military powers and the potential to disrupt existing policies and doctrines. We need to prepare for that while recognising that China in its doctrine has prioritised what it calls 'intelligentised war'."

> We also see the presence of Chinese research vessels, fishing boats and other benign presence which could have more serious implications
> Ajay Kumar, Defence Secretary

He said cyber incidents in India have been growing significantly over the last two years. "These are across sectors, including defence, and there is a need to focus on Grey Zone and Information Warfare," he added.

"It is important that we do not lose sight of how things have changed and how we need to be prepared manifold to face the kind of security scenario today. We now have a situation in which there are multiple flash points that potentially convert into difficult situations," he said, citing the example Galwan Valley standoff in May 2020. "It was effectively controlled by prompt and effective action by our armed forces, but the position on the border continues to be tense and the fact that our adversary continues to ramp up both infrastructure and assets across the border remains a matter of concern," said the top official in the defence ministry.

On China's increased activities in the South China Sea, he said it is unilaterally claiming the disputes as its own. "We continue to see cross-border proxy war and facilitation of terrorism, particularly in Jammu & Kashmir. The situation in Afghanistan today has posed potentials for new challenges which could happen at any point of time. We do also see the presence of Chinese research vessels, fishing boats and seemingly other benign presence which could have more serious implications."

The officer said India is taking several measures, including modernisation of forces, making procurement processes quicker, integration of forces and improving infrastructure along the borders. "The Air Force has been taking up modernisation in the last 4-5 years. In the last five years, 2.5 lakh crore has been spent on modernisation of the Indian Air Force," he added.

Integration of existing systems is need of the hour, says Gen Rawat

SWIFT and concerted response by the three services with quick decision-making is the prerequisite in modern-day warfare, he said.

He said the service chiefs are likely to retain operational control and it is progressing on a consensus-based approach with detailed discussions at various levels. "We are at present in the advanced stages of forming contours of the structures and processes required for this very important transformation," he said, adding that after the proposal is finalised it will be operationalised on the orders of the Union government.

Existing structures at the headquarter level also need to be integrated and augmented for joint operations and a study has been undertaken for that, he said.

Later talking to the media, Gen Rawat said they have not set any timeline for finalising the theatre command. "We are moving rapidly and we will take all the services on-board to create theatre commands that suit our requirements. There is no point in setting a timeline. When we set timelines, we start working in haste. Creating an organisation and getting that organisation structure in place takes a long time," he added.

Chief of Defence Staff Bipin Rawat presents a memento to Defence Minister Rajnath Singh in Bengaluru on Friday

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, in his inaugural address, said, "We are moving in the direction of taking the initiatives of integration of armed forces to their logical conclusion. Integration will be ensured at theatre commands and down at all levels from procurement, logistic support, capability building, training and indigenisation so that the armed forces become more efficient and self-reliant."

Rajnath Singh said they now have the 'Chief of Defence Staff' and 'Department of Military Affairs' in the Defence Ministry and they will again reiterate the same understanding and synergy which was seen in the 1971 Indo-Pak war. He termed that war as a shining example of integration of the three services of the armed forces, depicting the importance of planning, training and fighting together.

Bengal can't issue blanket orders: Centre

DURING a brief hearing, a bench of justices L Nageswara Rao and B R Gavai said the arguments in the case need to be heard in detail, and slated the hearing for November 16.

The Centre said Bengal can't issue blanket orders withdrawing all probe powers from the CBI. Its affidavit referred to several cases highlighted by the state, saying some of them also relate to offences of corruption against Central government employees.

"It is always desirable and in the larger interest of justice that the Central agency conducts the investigation in such cases," the Centre's affidavit stated.

Medical outlets at all Jharkhand grama panchayats

111 die in Nepal rains, govt aid slow to arrive

Downpour relents in some regions, weather expected to improve

KATHMANDU

NEPALESE authorities on Friday searched for dozens of people missing in this week's heavy rains, floods and landslides, as survivors complained they were yet to receive any government help.

The death toll has crossed 100 in the country's eastern and western parts, said police spokesperson Basanta Bahadur Kunwar, according to the Associated Press. The PTI news agency said the toll has touched 111.

At least 40 others have been injured by landslides and house collapses, and another 41 people were missing, Bahadur Kunwar said. The downpour subsided in some parts and the weather is expected to improve across the Himalayan nation over the weekend.

On Thursday, Nepal's Prime Minister Sher Bahadur Deuba visited the flood-stricken areas in the western region and promised a government relief package. However, many families said they were still waiting for government supplies and facing tough times on their own.

Crops wiped out

The disasters have wiped out crops and homes, dealing a blow to families already grappling with the devastating fallout of the pandemic, said Azmat Ulla of the International Federation of Red Crescent Societies in Nepal.

Bhimraj Shahi, who lost six family members in landslides in remote Humla district, said rescue teams reached the site more than 10 hours after they were hit on Monday.

"Although there has been an announcement from the government, the actual help hasn't yet arrived for the family," said Bhimraj Shahi.

Red Cross teams were aiding evacuation efforts in both countries.

"The people of Nepal and India are sandwiched between the pandemic and worsening climate disasters, heavily impacting millions of lives and livelihoods," Azmat Ulla of the International Federation of Red Crescent Societies in Nepal said. Bahadur Kunwar said rescue teams have been relocating people to safer locations and taking dozens of injured to hospitals.

Authorities were still trying to ascertain the number of displaced and the full extent of damage.

According to data released by the Ministry of Agriculture, the floods have damaged up to 2,59,000 metric tonnes of rice in Lumbini province, Sudur Paschim province and Province 1, causing losses to the tune of NPR 7.22 billion.

Landslides and floods are common in India's Himalayan north. Scientists say they are becoming more frequent as global warming contributes to the melting of glaciers.

In February, flash floods killed nearly 200 people and washed away houses in the northern Uttarakhand state in India. In 2013, thousands of people were killed in floods in the state. Agencies

Myanmar is now in conflict: UN spl envoy

The UN special envoy for Myanmar has warned that military takeover has led to armed conflict and if power isn't returned to people in a democratic way it "will go in the direction of a failed state." Christine Schraner Burgener said, "The repression of the military has led to more than 1,180 deaths," she said.

India, China in cross-hairs of US' Islamophobia bill

WASHINGTON

A group of over 30 American lawmakers led by Ilhan Omar has introduced a bill in the House of Representatives against growing incidents of Islamophobia worldwide.

The bill urges the State Department to include state-sponsored Islamophobic violence and impunity in its annual human rights reports.

The creation of the Special Envoy will help policymakers better understand the interconnected, global problem of anti-Muslim bigotry, the group of over 30 lawmakers said.

It will also establish a comprehensive strategy for US leadership in combating Islamophobia worldwide.

Proponents of the bill — which requires the State Department to create a Special Envoy for monitoring and combating Islamophobia — have put India in the category of China and Myanmar for alleged atrocities against Muslims.

Congresswoman Omar said: "We are seeing a rise in Islamophobia in nearly every corner of the globe".

"Whether it is the atrocities being committed against the Uyghurs in China and the Rohingya in Burma (Myanmar), the crackdowns on Muslim populations in India and Sri Lanka, the scapegoating of Muslim refugees and other Muslims in Hungary and Poland, the acts of white supremacist violence targeting Muslims in New Zealand and Canada, or the targeting of minority Muslim communities in Muslim-majority countries like Pakistan, Bahrain and Iran, the problem of Islamophobia is global in scope," a statement from Omar's office said.

The Combating International Islamophobia Act is endorsed by several organisations, including the American Muslim Empowerment Network (AMEN), the Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR) and the South Asian Americans Leading Together (SAALT).

Nihad Awad from CAIR said that while global Islamophobia, anti-Muslim state policies and hate incidents have increased for the past two decades, the American Muslim community has consistently called for the creation of a special envoy position to monitor and combat this rising tide of hate. "Global Islamophobia is not only a threat to the safety and security of Muslims here and abroad, it is also a threat to international religious freedom and democratic principles." PTI

ALEC BALDWIN FIRES PROP GUN KILLING CINEMATOGRAPHER

LOS ANGELES

HOLLYWOOD star Alec Baldwin was the focus Friday of investigations into a shocking and deadly on-set tragedy, after the actor fired a prop gun that killed a cinematographer and wounded the director of a Western he was shooting in New Mexico.

The cast and crew of "Rust" -- where Baldwin is playing the lead in a 19th century film about an accidental killing -- were "devastated" by the incident, they said in a statement to US media, and production has been suspended. Halyna Hutchins and Joel Souza "were shot when a prop firearm was discharged by Alec Baldwin," the sheriff in Santa Fe said in a statement.

Hutchins, 42, was transported to hospital by helicopter but died of her wounds, while Souza, 48, was taken by ambulance and was receiving treatment.

Souza was later released from hospital, "Rust" actress Frances Fisher tweeted, citing a text from him.

"Mr. Baldwin was interviewed by detectives," Santa Fe sheriff spokesman Juan Rios told AFP.

"He provided statements and answered their questions. He came in voluntarily and he left the building after he finished his interviews. No charges have been filed and no arrests have been made." Rios told the New York Times that the shooting happened in the middle of a scene that was being rehearsed or filmed. The Santa Fe New Mexican published pictures of a distraught-looking Baldwin which it said were taken in the parking lot of the sheriff's office after the tragedy. The paper said its reporter had seen the 63-year-old actor in tears after he had been questioned by investigators. One photograph shows a man, presumed to be Baldwin, doubled over. AFP

Reliance profit surges 46% to ₹15,479 crore

At ₹1,695 cr, Reliance Retail profit zooms 74.2%, Jio Platforms profit climbs 23.5%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

BEATING street estimates, Mukesh Ambani-led Reliance Industries Ltd (RIL), India's largest company by market valuation, on Friday reported consolidated profit of ₹15,479 crore, a surge of 46% Year on Year (YoY) for the second quarter of FY22 (Q2FY22).

Similarly, its consolidated gross revenue for the quarter jumped 49.2% YoY to ₹1,91,532 crore and consolidated EBITDA (earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization) grew by 30% to ₹30,283 crore year-on-year, RIL said in the results statement.

Our operational and financial performance reflects sharp recovery in the retail segment and sustained growth in oil-to-chemicals and digital services business

Mukesh Ambani, CMD

"All our businesses reflect growth over pre-Covid levels. Our operational and financial performance reflects sharp recovery in the retail segment and sustained growth in oil-to-chemicals (O2C) and digital services business. Our O2C business benefited from sharp recovery in demand across products and higher transportation fuel margins," said Mukesh D Ambani, CMD, RIL.

Reliance O2C segment's revenue increased by 58.1% Y-o-Y to ₹120,475 crore ($16.2 bn) primarily due to improved realisation on the back of increase in oil prices and higher volumes. This segment's EBITDA for Q2 of FY22 improved by 43.9% Y-o-Y to ₹12,720 crore ($1.7 billion) primarily on account of better transportation fuel cracks, higher intermediates product deltas, efficient product placement and yield management, the company said.

The company's digital arm Jio Platforms (JPL) saw its consolidated profit surging by 23.5% to ₹3,728 crore, while consolidated gross revenue stood 15.2% higher at ₹23,222 crore with an adjusted interconnection usage charges. JPL reported ARPU (average revenue per user) at ₹143.6 per subscriber per month, up 3.7% YoY, and total data traffic during Q2FY22 came at 23 billion GB, up 50.9% YoY. The company also informed that Jio and Google are working together to make the JioPhone Next available in time during Diwali.

The Group's fast growing retail business- Reliance Retail- also delivered a strong performance with consolidated gross revenue recorded at ₹45,426 crore for Q2 FY22, a growth of 10.5% Y-o-Y and higher than pre-Covid period. Net profit for this segment during the quarter came in at ₹1,695 crore, higher by 74.2%. "Reliance Retail continues to grow on the back of rapid expansion of both physical stores and digital offerings resulting in healthy growth in revenues and margin expansion," Ambani said.

Sebi nod to Paytm IPO; Nykaa to debut on Oct 28

NYKAA IPO

₹630 cr Worth of fresh issue

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN a big boost to India's IPO market, two of India's leading tech enabled companies are one step closer to becoming a publicly listed company. Country's largest fintech player Paytm has received a green signal from market regulator Sebi to come up with India's largest IPO (initial public offering) while details of Nykaa's IPO is now known to all.

One97 Communications (parent company of Paytm) has got Securities and Exchange Board of India's (Sebi) nod for its ₹16,600 crore IPO, according to source privy to the development. Paytm is planning for a mid-November listing.

While ₹8,300 crore will be primary share sale, the rest ₹8,300 crore will be an offer for sale (OFS), where existing investors can sell their shares. Paytm counts the likes of Ant Group, Alibaba, Elevation Capital and SoftBank Vision Fund among its main investors.

With this issue size, Paytm will surpass the state-run enterprise Coal India's ₹15,475 crore IPO that so far holds the record for largest public offering in India's corporate history. According to a senior market analyst, Paytm will debut on the stock exchanges at a valuation north of $20 billion, a significant increase from when it was valued last at $16 billion two years back.

He expects the two IPOs to create a bigger buzz than that of Zomato that got listed in July this year. "Nykaa, being a profitable company, has already generated a lot of buzz among serious investors, be it retail or intuitional. However, it is the sheer size and brand appeal of Paytm that makes it too big to miss," he said.

Paytm had clocked revenue of ₹3,186 crore for FY21 as against ₹3,540 crore in the previous year. What is interesting to the investor community is that the company had narrowed losses to ₹1,701 crore during the same period from ₹2,942 crore in the previous year.

Coming to Nykaa, the online to offline marketplace for beauty products has decided to launch its IPO on October 28 and close the offer on November 1. It plans to raise ₹5,351.92 crore through its public issue at the upper price band. The price band has been fixed at ₹1,085-1,125 a share, giving it a valuation of as much as $7.11 billion.

Investors can bid a minimum of 12 shares and in multiples of 12 shares thereafter. Nykaa's IPO comprises a fresh issue of ₹630 crore and an offer for sale of 4.197 cr shares by the promoters and investors.

'Risks to inflation, growth out of MPC's control; policy making in slow motion'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

EVEN when the Reserve Bank of India decided to maintain accommodative stance to focus on growth, its external member Jayant R Varma voted against accommodative stance, arguing that risk to inflation and growth is more aggravated and beyond the control of monetary policy committee.

"I am not in favour of the decision to keep the reverse repo rate at 3.35%, and vote against the accommodative stance. Raising effective money market rates quickly towards 4% would demonstrate the MPC's commitment to the inflation target, help anchor expectations, reduce risk premia, enhance macroeconomic stability, and allow lower long-term interest rates to be sustained for longer thereby aiding the economic recovery," Jayanth R Varma said in the MPC minutes released on October 22.

Members flag fuel cost: MPC minutes

While all members of the RBI panel, except its external member Jayant R Varma, voted for the accommodative stance, the concerns over rising fuel cost and its spillover on other segments and rising commodity price was underscored by most of the members.

He added that ill effects of the pandemic are now concentrated in narrow pockets of the economy, and monetary policy is much less effective than fiscal policy for providing targeted relief to the worst affected segments of the economy. He also raised concern over inflationary pressures, which are beginning to show signs of greater persistence than anticipated earlier.

"Both of these risks — one to inflation and the other to growth — are well beyond the control of the MPC, but they warrant a heightened degree of flexibility and agility. A pattern of policy making in slow motion that is guided by an excessive desire to avoid surprises is no longer appropriate," said Varma. While all members, except Varma, voted for the accommodative stance, the concerns over rising fuel cost and its spillover on other segments and rising commodity price was underscored by most of the members.

According to Mridul K Saggar, rising energy cost can raise inflation by 15-20 bps and also lower growth.

"In my assessment, the probability that oil prices may touch or cross $85 per barrel before the year ends and could average $80/barrel or more in H2 are not insignificant. It can have significant impacts that are hard to precisely quantify due to non-linearities and uncertainties...," Saggar said.

JAPAN

JAPAN'S CONSUMER INFLATION TURNS POSITIVE

Japan's core consumer prices rose in September for the first time since the early stages of the coronavirus pandemic in March 2020, a sign that rising energy and raw material costs are gradually pushing up inflation. Analysts expect rising fuel costs to accelerate consumer inflation in coming months, though any increase will be modest compared with other advanced economies as sluggish wage growth weighs on consumption and keeps firms from hiking prices much. The core CPI, which excludes volatile fresh food prices but includes fuel costs, rose 0.1% in September from a year earlier, government data showed on Friday, matching a median market forecast. It was unchanged in August. The gain was driven mostly by a 7.4% spike in energy costs, which was the biggest annual rise in nearly three years. Gasoline costs surged 16.5% in September from a year earlier. Processed food and durable goods also saw prices perk up, though the increase was more than offset by a 44.8% plunge in telecommunication fees as cellphone carriers slashed charges. Some expect core consumer inflation to head towards 1% in coming months as recent rises in crude oil costs are seen pushing up electricity bills with a lag of three to five months.

APEC

APEC MINISTERS AGREE TO STEP UP VACCINE EFFORTS

Finance ministers from Asia-Pacific trade group APEC met on Friday and agreed to step up efforts to expand Covid-19 vaccine manufacture and supply, and support global vaccine sharing, host nation New Zealand said in a statement. The ministers agreed to use all available policy tools to address Covid-19 and said they would maintain macroeconomic and financial stability and refrain from competitive exchange rate devaluations. "The pandemic has caused a rapid rise in public debt and demands for new spending continue to grow as we recover. More than ever, we need to use our resources effectively," New Zealand Finance Minister and Deputy Prime Minister Grant Robertson said. Despite a sharp drop in infections and rising vaccinations in wealthy APEC nations, there are concerns that few shots have reached smaller, poorer countries where the virus still rages. The World Health Organization has spoken about the risks and inequality of such "vaccine apartheid". The 21-economy group, which includes the United States, China and Japan, also acknowledged divergence in recovery from the pandemic as groups such as women and indigenous people continue to be disproportionately impacted.

CHINA

CHINA MULLS STEPS TO CHECK CURRENCY FLUCTUATION

China's forex regulator said it will roll out counter cyclical measures at an appropriate time in the event of greater currency market fluctuations due to policy tightening at major world economies. The shift in policy at global central banks will not change the largely stable China's balance of payments conditions nor the trend of the yuan currency, Wang Chunying, spokesperson for State Administration of Foreign Exchange, told a press conference. Wang Chunying, spokesperson for the State Administration of Foreign Exchange (SAFE), said, "if the foreign exchange market faces relatively big fluctuations, (regulators) will roll out counter-cyclical adjustments at an appropriate time." She said the regulator would pay close attention to inflationary pressures in the United States and the pace of monetary policy tightening at Federal Reserve in order to make proactive adjustments to guide market expectations and maintain currency market stability. The shift in policy at global central banks will not change the largely stable condition of China's balance of payments or the trend of the yuan currency, she added.

NEW GUIDELINES

NBFCs can fund up to ₹1 cr per borrower for IPO purchase

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Non-banking financial companies (NBFCs) cannot lend more than ₹1 crore to a borrower for funding purchase of initial public offering (IPOs).

This is part of a comprehensive set of rules for NBFCs approved on Friday by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI). The new rules would come into effect from 1 October 2021.

As per the new norms, NBFC's exposure to capital market and commercial real estate would be identified as sensitive exposure, and the NBFCs will have to fix board-approved internal limits for such exposures.

As per the new regulation, while the board is free to determine various sub-limits within the overall sensitive sector exposure internal limits, there should be a sub-limit within the commercial real estate exposure ceiling for financing land acquisition, and a ceiling on IPO funding.

The new regulations divide the NFBCs into four categories, which are base layer, middle layer, upper layer and top layer. Base layer would include all NBFCs with asset size less than ₹1,000 crore and non-deposit taking NBFCs.

Middle layer would include deposit taking NBFCs, all NBFCs with assets over ₹1,000 crore. Upper layer would comprise NBFCs which are specifically identified by the RBI as warranting enhanced regulatory requirements.

If the Reserve Bank is of the opinion that there is a substantial increase in the potential systemic risk from specific NBFCs in the Upper Layer, then such NBFCs would be moved to the Top Layer.

The minimum net owned fund requirement for NFBCs with public funds and public interactions would be increased to ₹10 crore by 31 March 2027.

YES BANK Q2 PROFIT UP BY 74% TO ₹226 CR

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PRIVATE lender YES Bank on Friday reported 74% jump in net profit at ₹226 crore for the quarter ending September 2021, against ₹129 crore in the corresponding period last year, mainly on account of lower provisioning requirements. The bank said it is aiming for a credit growth of 15% this fiscal.

However, net interest income declined 23% to ₹1,512 crore as against ₹1,973 crore a year ago and its total income slipped to ₹5,430.30 crore during the July-September period from ₹5,842.81 crore in the same quarter last year, the bank said in regulatory filing.

In the second quarter, advances grew 3.5% to ₹1,72,839 crore and deposits 30.1% to ₹1,76,672 crore.

Gross bad loans declined to 14.9% of gross advances from 16.9% in the year-ago period and net Non-Performing Assets (NPAs) declined to 5.55% in the quarter under review as compared to 5.78% in June quarter.

The bank's provisioning declined by 65% to ₹377 crore in the latest September quarter from ₹1,078 crore in the year-ago period. The provision coverage ratio stood at 78.9% compared to 79.3%.

"'With lower slippages and better recoveries and upgrades, our provisioning requirement has come down," Yes, Bank's Managing Director and CEO Prashant Kumar said.

In the case of DHFL, the lender recovered ₹29 crore as against its total exposure of ₹1,000 crore, which was a mix of retail and masala bonds, Kumar said.

On the proposed asset reconstruction company, Kumar said the lender is in the process of finalising the investors.

"Hopefully, in 60 days, we should be in a position to announce the partnership and then conclude the deal before the end of the financial year," he said.

HDFC LIFE NET PROFIT DECLINES 16% TO ₹275.91 CRORE

New Delhi: HDFC Life Insurance Company on Friday reported a 16% decline in consolidated net profit to `275.91 crore in the September quarter, on higher reserves set aside for expected Covid claims. Total income during the July-September period of FY22 rose to `20,478.46 crore from `16,426.03 crore in year-ago period.

Federal Bank consolidated net jumps 55%

New Delhi: Private sector lender Federal Bank on Friday reported nearly 55% jump in its consolidated net profit at ₹488 crore for the second quarter of this fiscal ended September 30. The bank had posted a net profit of ₹315.70 crore in the year-ago period.

Total income (consolidated) during the July-September period of 2021-22, however, was down at ₹4,013.46 crore, as against ₹4,071.35 crore in the same period of 2020-21, Federal Bank said in a filing.

The gross NPAs stood at ₹4,558.19 crore by the end of September 2021 quarter, up from ₹3,591.72 crore in the corresponding period a year ago.

RBI issues draft norms to implement Basel III Capital Framework for AIFIs

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU

THE RBI on Friday released a draft framework on master directions to implement the Basel III Capital Framework for All India Financial Institutions (AIFIs) including EXIM Bank, NABARD, NHB, and SIDBI.

The draft directions propose minimum capital ratio of 11.5% of total risk weighted assets (RWA). They also propose AIFIs to maintain a capital conservation buffer in the form of common equity at 2.5% of RWA, in addition to the minimum capital adequacy ratio of 9%. These Basel III norms are in line with the minimum capital ratio of 11.5% and minimum capital adequacy ratio of 9% followed by Indian banks.

The draft regulations proposed raising common equity in tier-1 capital to 5.5% of RWA and proposed the minimum tier-1 capital at 7%.

The captial conservation buffer is proposed at 2.5%. Capital distribution constraints will be imposed on an AIFI when capital level falls within this range. However, they will be able to conduct business as normal when their captial levels fall into the conservation range. "Therefore, the constraints imposed are related to the distributions on AIFIS when their capital levels fall into the range increase as the AIFIs' capital levels approach the minimum requirements," it noted.

Common equity consists of paid-up equity capital, share premium, statutory reserves, capital reserves, balance in poft and loss account and other disclosed free reserves.

According to RBI, the AIFIs shall implement all three pillars of Basel III captial regulations, considering their role in the Indian financial system. AIFIs are required to maintain a minimum pillar 1 capital to RWA (CRAR) of 9% on an ongoing basis other than capital conservation buffer and counter-cyclical captial buffer.

Mauritius' exit from FATF grey list may boost India's FDI inflow

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Financial Action Task Force (FATF), the global money laundering and terrorist financing watchdog, has removed Mauritius from its 'grey list' of countries which may indirectly lead to higher investment to India from the Island nation.

The FATF in its recent report has said that Mauritius has strengthened the effectiveness of its anti-money laundering and terror financing process, and has addressed related technical deficiencies to meet the commitments in its action plan regarding the strategic deficiencies that the FATF identified in February 2020.

It, therefore, informed that Mauritius is no longer subject to the FATF's increased monitoring process.

This development, feel many experts, would indirectly impact the foreign investment from Mauritius to India.

Tax treaty

Mauritius, one of the largest contributors of FDI, has been losing out to jurisdictions like Singapore, Cayman Island, etc. partly because of amendment in the tax treaty with India

"The foreign direct investment into India from Mauritius had declined during the financial year April 2020-March 2021 after Mauritius was subjected to increased monitoring by the FATF. However, this should improve this year with this recent development and given the comfort of the investors to invest into India from Mauritius," says Dhaval Jariwala, a Mumbai-based chartered accountant, who has many foreign funds as his clients.

Mauritius, which has been one of the largest contributors of FDI, has been recently losing out to jurisdictions like Singapore, Cayman Island, etc., partly because of amendment in the tax treaty with India and also due to it being put on the FATF grey list. Mauritius was put on the list in February 2020.

After inclusion in the list, FDI inflow from Mauritius fell from ₹57,785 crore in 2019-20 to ₹41,661 crore in 2020-21.

Benzema's lawyers criticise trial on last day of hearings

Lawyers for Real Madrid striker Karim Benzema dismissed charges against him over an attempt to blackmail fellow player Mathieu Valbuena with a sex tape, saying the prosecution had been driven by media interest. On the last day of hearings, being held in Versailles, Benzema's lawyers claimed the prosecution had failed to provide evidence to convict the star of complicity in an attempt to blackmail.

Botswana to Sharjah: Namibian tale

Formation of domestic T20 league, 'bomb squad' & recruitment of Wiese have helped African nation create history

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

Namibian players celebrate after defeating Ireland in Sharjah on Friday | AP

OCTOBER 28, 2018. The umpire at the bowler's end signals play. This little act signals the beginning of an outlandish Namibian dream to qualify for what was then the 2020 edition of the T20 World Cup. Their opponents that day was Eswatini (formerly known as Swaziland). Namibia had little problems in running them down. Playing in Gaborone, Botswana's capital, they finished second in the African sub-regional qualifier, to advance to the regional qualifier. In the six-team final in Uganda, Namibia, one of the smallest cricketing nations (population 2.5 mn) to have played in the 50-over World Cup, finished second to progress to the global qualifier.

In the UAE in 2019, they advanced to the qualifiers where they beat Oman to rubber-stamp their ticket to one of the sport's most glamorous events: the T20 World Cup, their first global ICC event since 2003.

Like every nation up and down the cricketing spectrum, the African nation, too had its fair share of problems. A lack of matches hurt their progress but what has kept them in good stead is the beginning of a new T20 competition: Richelieu T20 meet. Having already conducted two seasons, the players were well versed in the format's grammar and language. The likes of Craig Williams, JJ Smit, Jan Nicol Loftie-Eaton, Zane Green, Gerhard Erasmus, Jan Frylinck and Ruben Trumpelmann, players who wouldn't have normally got T20 gigs, ended up playing in their own league for two years running.

They also secured the services of David Wiese, a T20 specialist who was with the South African team in the 2016 edition. Unlike others who didn't have that much experience of playing the sport at the elite level, Wiese, who was part of the inaugural Hundred, knows the format inside out. He has played in the Caribbean Premier League, Indian Premier League, Bangladesh Premier League and the Pakistan Super League. That's why when he made himself available to represent Namibia (his father was born there), the cricket board wasted no time in bringing him into the fold three weeks before the squads had to be submitted.

Namibia's association with South Africa don't end there — considering they share a border with them, that's not a surprise. Two of their support staff are South Africans: Pierre de Bruyn (coach) and Albie Morkel (support staff). Namibia believed they were in with a chance because of their Nos 4, 5, and 6. One only had to listen to De Bruyn. He called his middle-order of Erasmus, Wiese and Smit 'the bomb squad'. The thinking behind that term was simple. Wiese, somebody who has played over 270 games, would provide the stardust. Skipper Erasmus would steady the ship before launching at the end and Smit, capable with both bat and ball, would lend the finishing kick apart from chipping in with wickets. That middle-order came to life over the last three days. Chasing a steep 165, Erasmus (32 off 22), Wiese (66 n.o off 40) and Smit (14 n.o off 8) engineered a thrilling heist after they were 52/3 from 8.2 overs. In a must-win game against Ireland on Friday, Wiese and Erasmus completed the act to take them through. Needing 126 on a tricky Sharjah track, an unbeaten 53-run stand took them home.

They began this road in Botswana against Eswatini more than 1100 days ago. And you could kind of see why there wasn't a dry eye in all of Sharjah when the curtains came done on Friday.

Brief scores: Ireland 125/8 in 20 ovs (P Stirling 38; Frylinck 3/21) lost to Namibia 126/2 in 18.3 ovs (Erasmus 53 n.o).

Easy win for Sri Lanka: Netherlands 44 in 10 ovs (Kumara 3/7; Wanindu 3/9) lost to Sri Lanka 45/2 in 7/1 ovs (K Perera 33 n.o).

T20 WORLD CUP

SUPER CONTESTS ON THE CARDS

The Super 12s of the T20 begins today with two mouth-watering matches. Title contenders England will begin their campaign against the West Indies, Australia face South Africa test. Talking points...

Australia vs South Africa | Live on Star Sports 1 @ 3.30pm

Oz's batting concerns

Once regarded as a dominant force in ICC events, the T20 World Cup has not been their cup of tea as their zero titles reflect. Coming into the seventh edition, ending their title drought might be even tougher. Their batting, with an out-of-form David Warner, no longer possess the deadly threat at the top. It is not going to be any easy against the South African bowling unit too. However, a lot will depend on in-form Glenn Maxwell in the middle order, who is their X factor. But, they will also have to count on their speed merchant Mitchell Starc and spinner Adam Zampa to bring their A game.

In-form South Africans

South Africa will head into the competition as one of the dark horses of the tournament. Having come into the tournament with nine wins from 10 matches, they will start the opening game as favourites. Add the likes of Quinton de Kock, Rassie van der Dussen, David Miller and Heinrich Klaasen, their game is suited to the shorter format and have it in them to make life tough for the Aussies. Potentially, they have one of the most balanced bowling units. If Kagiso Rabada and Anrich Nortje can trouble opponents with pace, Tabriaz Shamsi will be the trump card in the spin department.

England vs West Indies | Live on Star Sports 1 @ 7.30pm

Aggression the key

England are one of the hot favourites to win the title. Their aggressive approach has been successful in white ball cricket, and that trend is going to continue against England and other teams in the UAE with their batsmen being key at the top. Everyone plays a similar brand of cricket, irrespective of the player, who has gone back to the dugout. If Jason Roy does not score, Jos Buttler will, if Buttler does not, someone else will - such has been their winning formula.

One final hurrah

If there is one format, which truly suits West Indies' style, it is the shortest format and they relish it as their two T20 World Cup titles suggest. They are no longer the hot favourites, but counting them out would be outrightly foolish. With this edition expected to be a last opportunity for some big names like Chris Gayle (42 years), Dwayne Bravo (38), Lendl Simmons (36) to win another title, it could be just the perfect dose of motivation for the rest of the players in the team to provide them a fitting farewell.

Roma suffer humiliating 1-6 defeat

AFP @Paris

JOSE Mourinho's Roma were humiliated 6-1 in the Europa Conference League on Thursday at Bodo/Glimt, the Norwegian champions whose fans are famed for carrying giant yellow toothbrushes to games.

"It's my responsibility, I chose to use these players," Mourinho was quoted as saying by Italian media. Roma captain Lorenzo Pellegrini described the defeat as an "embarrassment" and a "slap in the face".

Bodo/Glimt, playing their 11th European game of the season, stunned the Italian giants who struggled in temperatures of two degrees on an artificial pitch just inside the Arctic Circle. Erik Botheim scored a hat-trick for the Norwegians with captain Patrick Berg, Ola Solbakken and Amahl Pellegrino piling on the misery for Mourinho.

WINNING STROKES

All eyes are on 11-year-old Bengaluru swimmer Dhinidhi Desinghu, as she creates two records in the ongoing sub-junior and junior nationals

ASHIM SUNAM

SHE'S just 11, but Bengaluru girl Dhinidhi Desinghu has a clear vision of her goals. Working towards becoming a 'top swimmer and feature in the Olympics', Dhinidhi is pushing herself hard to realise her dreams. If her achievements are anything to go by, she, for a start, is on the right track. In the ongoing 37th sub junior and 47th junior National Aquatic Championship here, she created two new national records in the 200m individual medley and 200m freestyle, both in group III girls. She was the best swimmer in her age group at the state-level competition last month too.

However, success did not come overnight. Dhinidhi started competing as an eight-year-old and gradually improved. Initially, she trained at the Golden Swims and joined Dolphin Aquatics, Kensington in 2019. Pre-pandemic, she would wake up at 4:30 am every day and leave home by 5am with her mother in tow to reach the training centre. Post training, she rushed to school, Kendriya Vidyalaya DRDO, CV Raman Nagar, for classes, after which she would once again return to the pool for her evening training sessions.

When Covid broke out in 2020, her training took a hit with pools shut for almost eight months. When they reopened, Dhinidhi had to start afresh, having to train extra hard to prepare for the nationals. "For the last one month or so, the schedule has been tight. The practice for the nationals was intense. Dhinidhi had to skip a couple of online classes, but teachers have been supportive. In the last few months, my husband has been accompanying her for training," says Jesitha V, Dhinidhi's mother.

In the 200m freestyle, she clocked 2:24:94 to break a 11-year national record of 2:17.52 held by Monique Gandhi of Maharashtra. On Thursday, she broke Vania Kapoor's record of 2:37.99 set in 2013 in the 200m individual medley, with a timing of 2:33.36. This is a big achievement considering the long training break owing to Covid. "It was not easy to get back to shape and train again. It took a lot of time to get back to competitive swimming. I am very happy with my records in the nationals. My hard work has paid off," says a content Dhinidhi.

Dronacharya awardee and Dolphins Aquatics program Director Nihar Ameen is keeping a close tab on her progress and considers Dhinidhi to be a bright sportsperson. According to her coach Madhu Kumar, it's taken two years to work on her technique. "When she joined us, her technique was not what it should have been. So, we focused on correcting it. She is super talented and dedicated. It is very difficult to get kids of her age to be focused, but she trains very hard," he says.

When Dhinidhi joined us, her technique was not what it should have been. So, we focused on correcting it. She is super talented and dedicated — Madhu Kumar, coach

MUSIC TO THE EARS

The members of Chennai-based music group, Staccato

SANATH PRASAD

WITH several musical events taking a severe blow ever since the start of the pandemic, it appears that many are yearning to groove to live tunes again. And this show may be a glimmer of hope for artistes and musical fans alike. Chennai-based contemporary classic band Staccato, El Fe singers (choir group), vocalists Divya Raghavan, Deepak Blue, among others are performing at the 6th edition of October Octaves, an annual musical event on Saturday.

Staccato came to light following their performance at the London Olympics in 2012. The band specialises in recreating classics with a contemporary and western touch. During the ongoing pandemic, the band conceived an idea called Freshly Brewed and collaborated with El Fe singers, a choir group, to reproduce classics from old film songs. Gowtham Bharadwaj, one of the founders of Staccato and the lead vocalist of the nine-member band, says, "The idea of adding contemporary style to folklore and old classics was conceived during the pandemic when a lot of us were reeling under the blues of the lockdown. We rehearsed and performed our first song titled Anubavam Pudhumai in an empty auditorium in Septemeber 2020. We aim to bring this to Bengaluru."

According to Bharadwaj, the band is performing their show on a large scale for the first time in almost two years. Raghavan, a city-based vocalist, says, "We've had a creative loss, personally, due to the pandemic. Now, people are trying to get back to the old routine. And as artistes, we are always ready to get back on stage for them."

Ramesh Madhavan, organiser of October Octaves, says, "Our musical programme attempts to make Jayanagar and JP Nagar the musical hub of Bengaluru. This performance focuses on rearrangement of old classical songs with a contemporary touch and involves a young band of nine members, five vocalists, and a choir, all of whom will performing in multiple languages,"

October Octaves is taking place today at RV Dental College Auditorium, JP Nagar. Tickets: bookmyshow.com

FIT BIT

URDHVA PRASARITA EKA PADASANA

(ONE FOOT EXPANDING UPWARD POSE)

This is a balancing inversion also known as standing split pose. It stimulates the Muladhara (root) and Svadisthana (sacral) chakras. Activating these chakras encourages the practitioner to feel rooted, connected and balanced. In its fullest expression, it can also energise the Sahasrara (crown) chakra. You should not focus on how high the raised leg can go, but, on directing equal energy to both legs.

STEPS

- Come into warrior pose. While extending your right leg, slowly raise your left arm.
- Then gently twist your torso to the right. As you steadily exhale, slowly lift your left leg into the air for suspension.
- Slowly lean forward on your right thigh and rest your hands on the floor, in order to bear the weight of your torso.
- While straightening your left leg over your head, slowly shift your weight on your right leg.
- It is very important to rotate your hip and leg joint properly.
- Ensure that your pelvis remains perfectly parallel to the ground though it might suddenly want to tilt to the left side to balance the body weight.
- You have to keep both legs straight. On the other hand, both knee caps must face straight ahead.
- Remember that you have to gently push towards standing straight and keeping the airborne leg straight simultaneously.
- When you become more flexible you will be really able to grasp the leg on the ground as the other leg slowly ascends. As the torso descends, the leg will ascend.
- Stay in the position for at least 30 seconds then extend to a minute.
- Exhale slowly and return to the starting position. Repeat with the other leg.

BENEFITS

- It can calm the brain.
- Strengthens and stretches the calves, hamstrings and thighs.
- Stimulates the liver and kidneys; stretches the back of the leg and groin area.
- Releases stress in the legs.
- Relieves mild depression, anxiety, headaches, fatigue and insomnia.
- Assists to improve memory power and concentration.
- Increases flexibility in the hip flexors, hamstrings, inner thighs, and calves.
- Balance improves, especially when you are able to bring the hands onto your grounded leg.

LIMITATIONS

- People suffering from lower back, ankle or knee injuries, avoid this.
- Practise this under the guidance of a yoga expert. Don't strain your spine in this pose.
- Don't practice it during mental stress and after much physical strain.

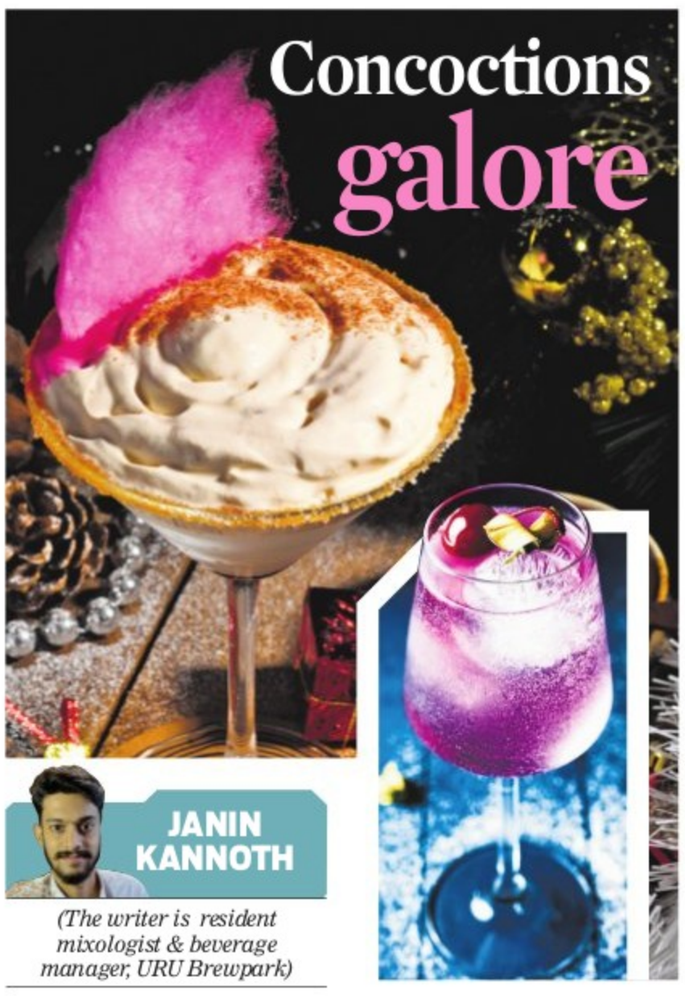
How has the name cocktail itself come about? Many theories abound



JANIN KANNOTH

(The writer is resident mixologist & beverage manager, URU Brewpark)

A cocktail is a mixture of spirits, liqueurs, fruit juices and flavours, and a range of other ingredients intended to make the drink taste nice and look snazzy. Many classic cocktails have been invented by demand, and some by the mixologists ingenuity and innovativeness. The classic cocktails have obviously stood the test of time and are sought after around the world. Similarly the names of the cocktails too. While some names are sort of self-explanatory, like a Whisky Sour, or a Piña colada, (which in Spanish, roughly translates to 'strained pineapple'), or a G and T, some names like Sex on The Beach tend to make one think that it might have just been the wild and drunken imagination of the bartender or mixologist.

But how has the name cocktail itself come about? Many theories abound. One comprises the term cock-tailed, which originally described a horse with a tail clipped short, and 'cock-tailed' became a sort of derogatory term for racehorses without a thoroughbred pedigree. So, this may have been extended to alcoholic drinks that were similarly blended rather than contain pure spirits. However, the most popularly believed story involves a New Orleans apothecary by the name of Peychaud (of bitters fame) who served a mixed brandy drink in a French eggcup, and this was named coquetier, the French term for an eggcup. The name was shortened to 'cocktay,' by his customers, which evolved into 'cocktail'.

Some other cocktails have interesting origins too. For example, the French 75, which is a cocktail made with sparkling wine, gin, lemon juice and sugar syrup is supposed to have been invented around the time when the 75 mm Artillery Gun was the mainstay of the French Army during World War 1. People called the drink Soixante-Quinze, or 75 in French because it was believed to pack the same punch as the gun. This slowly evolved to French 75.

Of course, as with many names of various different things, the origins of names of many cocktails are also obscure or disputed. One can only say, "Whats in a name?" and raise a glass to enjoy your favourite cocktail.

Bhavana

'MY ROLE CHINMINIKI IN BHAJARANGI 2 IS LIKE A THUG'

Bhavana opens up about her upcoming film Bhajrangi 2 starring Shivarajkumar, which is slated to release on October 29

CE FEATURES

WITH Bhajarangi 2, Bhavana is teaming up with Shivarajkumar again after Tagaru. However, it was not the only reason which made her take up the film. The actor says she was equally excited to collaborate with director Harsha and Jayanna Productions.

"Harsha and I used to discuss teaming up for a film even when he was a choreographer. It has finally materialised with Bhajarangi 2. Usually, as actors, we use the word 'different' more often than not to describe our roles and films. But with Bhajarangi 2, the word is justified," says Bhavana.

Bhavana admits that she has been a big fan of fantasy films irrespective of the language. "So, it didn't take much to convince me to greenlit the film. Ten minutes into Harsha's story narration, I decided to be part of the project. I loved the way the director had approached this script," she says.

For Bhavana, playing the character Chinminiki was challenging, she says. "From the costumes to the makeup, I enjoyed the process of dressing up for the role," says the actor. Talking about the character, the actor says, "She is very bold; commands a lot of people and tries to bring a difference to the village. I call this character a thug. At the same time, she carries charm and innocence."

When asked about her co-star Shivanna, Bhavana says, "I have worked with many actors from across south Indian film industries, and I felt it is rare to meet a person like Shivanna. He is a friendly and good-hearted person. Being one of the most humble human beings, he sets an example for others. There is a lot to learn from this star," she says.

The conversations also touched upon why she has not been signing many films lately. "Due to my court trials in Kerala, I had to let go of many Malayalam projects. I don't know whether it is the right thing to stay away from the film industry. I haven't committed any films even in Kannada as well. Concerning my Tamil film career, I don't want to make a comeback for the sake of it. Two Tamil projects came my way, but I was not happy with the stories. I am looking forward to listening to good stories," she signs off.

Bhajarangi 2 has passed the Censor Board with a U/A and will be hitting theatres on October 29.

RATHNAN PRAPANCHA: A WARM AND EMOTIONAL HUG

RATHNAN PRAPANCHA

Cast: Dhananjay, Umashree, Reba Monica John, Pramod, Anu Prabhakar Mukherjee, Sruthi, Ravi Shankar Gowda and Vainidhi Jagadish

Director: Rohit Padaki

Producer: KRG Studios

Streaming on: Amazon Prime

A SHARADHAA

The first thing that hits you about Rathnan Prapancha is the interesting twist on the old adage -- blood is thicker than water. Director Rohit Padaki successfully proves that human bonding is, in fact, thicker than blood relationships. Billed as a travel-comedy-drama that highlights middle-class values, Rathnan Prapancha is more about the emotional journey of the protagonist Rathnakara (Dhananjay), an insurance agent, and his mother Saroja (Umashree).

The film is a powerful study of the attachment and conflicts between the mother and son duo. While Saroja is overprotective about her son, Rathnakara disregards everything of his mother's behaviour. Despite this, he still follows her instructions and makes sure her small desires are fulfilled. However, a revelation wreaks havoc in his already frustrated life and makes him drift further away from his mother. To rediscover himself, Rathnakara decides to travel far and wide to find his roots, and he has a reporter Mayuri (Reba Monica John) tagging along. Will the journey help him to get away from the self-doubting life, and will he find his much-sought-after happiness is unraveled in relatable sequences that make for an intriguing tale.

Rathnan Prapancha is purely Rohit Padaki's vision, and he has had the best support coming from the cast and crew. Rohit successfully showcases the struggles of a common man, and reflects profoundly on a complicated relationship, which is both relatable and inspirational. The evocative end is disturbing, but sure to ring in your mind for a long time. The establishment of various characters at the right intervals elevates the story. However, the runtime of the film could be cut short by 15 minutes, by letting go of unnecessary scenes, which dampens the flow.

RATING 3.5/5

The travel-comedy-drama is more about the drama and travel and lacks a solid space for the humour parts. The director's placing of songs and the background music is laudable. Music director Ajaneesh Lokanath has delivered the right blend of songs, which also tell a story. Cinematographer Shreesha Kuduvalli has managed to capture the hustle and bustle of Rathnakara, up and close. Special mention for the picturisation of the picturesque locales, especially the Kashmir portions.

Dhananjay explores a never-before-attempted character, and his portrayal is impeccable. As Rathnakara, he delivers an emotionally charged performance that is sure to connect with the audience. For those who missed watching Umashree's acting prowess, Rathnan Prapancha is a must watch. Playing a possessive mother, she is a live wire, and her performance will give you goosebumps. Even though her character does not appear much in the second half, she still cements her presence with her phone conversations, which becomes an important tool to connect the mother and son. Reba Monica John as Mayuri often finds a way to bridge relationships around her, and she has handled the role well. Pramod's performance in the film will probably elevate him to the next level. Other actors, including the likes of Anu Prabhakar, Sruthi, Ravi Shankar Gowda, Vainidhi Jagadish, and Ashoka, make their presence felt in Rathnan Prapancha.

Rohit Padaki's film, which is out on Amazon Prime Video, is about the journey of an ordinary man who comes across extraordinary situations. Just like the journey in the emotional drama, the strength of Rathnan Prapancha is the power of human bonding — between the audience, and... the film.

DUNE

Cast: Timothee Chalamet, Rebecca Ferguson, Oscar Isaac, Josh Brolin, Dave Bautista, Zendaya

Director: Denis Villeneuve

SUDHIR SRINIVASAN

One of my favourite games in the PlayStation universe is an experiential indie-adventure label called The Journey. As the title indicates, the game is about a journey... of an unnamed, faceless protagonist, who glides over long stretches of sand in a desert, seeking companionship and a certain oneness with nature. Parts of Dune evoked similar, almost spiritual, feelings in me. Make no mistake, Dune is much more dynamic, much more about the story—or should I say, the beginning of a story—than the indie game, but there's a similar enjoyable stillness to this film. An example is when a small tech-bug is deployed to assassinate the Atreides heir, Paul Atreides (Timothee Chalamet), and where in another film, you would get a thrilling scene with the musical score accentuating the urgency, here, in Dune, you get profound stillness and silence. As the bug floats about, searching for its target, Paul steps into projection rays causing small neon marks of impact on his face, while he takes in the mesmerising movement of this winged metallic bug. It's one of several filmmaking moments that are breathtakingly original in this film.

Over the decades, we have seen literature and cinema romanticise the sea and the jungle, but the desert... that is usually utilised to signify danger and struggle. In Dune too (based on Frank Herbert's 1965 sci-fi novel), the desert isn't easy to navigate around. Temperatures, in fact, rise to hundreds of degrees with the natives taking refuge in special suits that maintain body temperature by recycling sweat. It's a strange, alien land in which people spit to communicate respect, because what's more valuable in such a setting than water and moisture... Adding to the peril of this location is a strange, gigantic creature called a sandworm that slithers under the sand. Despite the desert being such a threat to survival, this film communicates a rare love and respect for the setting. Cinematographer Greig Fraser and director Denis Villeneuve make this dry landscape devoid of trees look bewitchingly beautiful. One of my favourite shots is when an object shuffles under the sand, and momentarily, for a couple of seconds, the sand shifts like a wave of water. For a fleeting moment, the desert turns into its opposite... the ocean. It's a film that inspires such reflection.

THIS BEAUTIFUL EPIC SACRIFICES STORY FOR DEEPER PLEASURES

RATING 4/5

Dune's pleasures lie in such moments. Where another film of its ilk that tows the Hero's Journey, might cover half a dozen stages in half hour, Dune remains content with slow progress in story. There's an admirable refusal to condense the experience, so it can feel 'faster'. In Paul Atreides' struggles, we see our own. In his slow evolution into a greater man, we find inspiration for our own growth—or if not, at least the vicarious pleasure of observing the transformation of someone more able. When Paul grinds his teeth in unbearable pain and yet does not flee from it as any animal would, we wish to be as strong too. As Paul's mother, Lady Jessica (Rebecca Ferguson), repeats many times in this film, "I must not fear. Fear is the mind-killer. Fear is the little-death that brings total obliteration." In another story about The One, Harry Potter, it is said that Harry fears nothing more than fear itself. These are running themes in such stories.

The depth of these ideas is represented in the vastness of Dune's universe. The sheer scale of Arrakis is to be experienced on the largest screen. An army that stretches as far as the eyes can see, gets shown as though it were not of people but ants. The architecture, the structural detail, say, in the palace in which the Atreides stay, make for memorable imagery. Even the copters that swarm about like dragonflies are unforgettable. Each time the wings fluttered about, I stared entranced.

And it helps that a film executed on this scale and imagination finds an ally in Hans Zimmer's music that is equally vast. The music communicates a strange beauty, a sense of foreboding, a hint of something ancient and foreign... in fact, you could argue that it's all representative of nature, in a sense. If you didn't know Zimmer had made music for this film, I doubt you could guess it, given how unusual this work is in his often orchestra-dominated discography. A striking idea often employed for background music, is that of a woman's scream. It communicates so much; a scream is versatile, and it is through it that we, humans, though blessed as we are with the knowledge of words, often express emotions ranging from joy to sorrow, pain to pleasure, birth to death.

The film reserves a special place for women. It is indeed a group of women called the Bene Gesserit who seem to be controlling the affairs of the world from the shadows. A favourite scene is that of the Reverend Mother noticing Lady Jessica's hope that her son is The One, and wryly commenting how it's a waste that her training should be imparted to a man.

Is there enough story in this film? Perhaps not, but the rarer visual and aural pleasures in it are more than adequate compensation. One such image—of a mother and son dragging their feet, dancing almost, on desert sands, even as a double moon rises in the horizon—will stay with me for a long time. This film, as Chani says at the end, is "just the beginning". And for such visual imagination and an almost meditative focus on the individual moments of a film, I'm more than willing to wait another couple of years for a sequel. By that time, I'll likely have seen this first film a dozen times I suspect.
